ON THE COVER: All-America cornerback Pat Thomas, who spurred Texas A&M to an 8-3 record in 1974. An all-state running back and outstanding defensive back in high school in Plano, Texas, he is one of nine Aggies looking for a fourth varsity letter in 1975. A&M defensive coordinator Melvin Robertson says that Thomas has "the quickest feet of any athlete I've ever coached." He runs 40 yards in 4.5; he's smart and he's tough. He is equally adept at playing both the run and pass. A marketing major, Pat was selected as a first-team all-America by the Associated Press, Football Writers and the NEA. As a 21-year old senior, his goals are to help the Aggies win a national title and "to play my very best on every down."

Oklahoma Returns To Grace, But Title Contenders Won't Concede '75 Honors

By STEVE WELLER

*Sportswriter, The Buffalo Evening News
President, Football Writers' Association of America*

Roll call will take a little longer but one familiar argument won't be on the agenda when football fans, coaches and poll weevils review the 1975 season and decide where all the honors go.

Oklahoma is back.

The Sooners have completed that part of their National Collegiate Athletic Association probation that limited the number of places they could look for recognition as national champions.

Inside the boundaries of the state of Oklahoma, at least, there is no doubt at all that discussions about the identity of the nation's No. 1 team will not last nearly as long this year as they did in 1974.

THOSE DEBATES WEREN'T SETTLED, in fact, until the first day of 1975 was almost over. When the Orange Bowl game ended on New Year's night two institutions that already had made room in their trophy cases for new hardware, Ohio State and Alabama, were left empty-handed.

Notre Dame's upset victory over Alabama in Miami completed the unlikely parlay needed to bring Southern California to the attention of the awards committees.

The Trojans did not back into anything. They did their part earlier in the day when they defeated Ohio State in the Rose Bowl.

When all national title votes were counted Southern Cal had been awarded the Grantland Rice trophy by the Football Writers' Association of America, the MacArthur Bowl by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, and the No. 1 spot in the final poll of United Press International's board of coaches.

Oklahoma, ineligible at that time for a bowl game, averted a shutout by finishing first in the Associated Press poll.

THE SOONERS' return to NCAA grace, no matter how triumphant their followers figure it to be, has prompted no concession speeches in Columbus, Tuscaloosa, South Bend, Ann Arbor, Los Angeles or any place else where championship contenders are found year after year.

Everybody has somebody

Steve Weller's 16-year stint with the Buffalo Evening News and his basketball scrimmages were interrupted last winter with a heart attack, but he made his comeback with this preview piece.

Following the theory, "variety is the spice of life," Weller once joined the staffs of five papers in an eight-year period.

Now he's settled down to writing a sports column for the News five days a week, with a feature column on Saturdays.

A 1951 graduate of the University of Florida, this year's president of the Football Writers' Association of America was named New York sportswriter of the year in 1970.

they have to replace. Ohio State must rebuild its defense. Notre Dame must do the same with its offense. Michigan has to find a quarterback to replace Dennis Franklin. Southern Cal has lost what would be the nucleus of an all-star team in any league—the absentees including Anthony Davis, Pat Haden, Richard Wood, J. K. McKay and Charlie Phillips.

Alabama, the team that waited longest last season to find out it wasn't going to be canonized, is missing good people—but not many. Only six of Bear Bryant's top 25 have departed.

OKLAHOMA COACH BARRY SWITZER undoubtedly has positions he must fill, too, but he has an uncommon number of super athletes who won't go away.

Joe Washington is a backfield by himself but he won't have to be. Steve Davis is back at quarterback. Tinker Owens returns to catch whatever Davis decides to throw. Opponents won't want to believe this, but on defense two Selmon brothers, Dewey and Leroy, are still around.

Oklahoma and Alabama will dominate preseason ratings and if they are to hold their positions they will have to go to work early.

John McKay has only eight starters back at Southern Cal. That statistic doesn't necessarily mean hard times because McKay never allows himself to be caught without a platoon of talented junior college reinforcements.

BUT IT COULD MEAN another 1974 pattern, one that found the Trojans starting slowly, then playing the best football in the country during the second half of the season.

Force of habit makes USC a preseason favorite in the Pacific-8 Conference but UCLA partisans can study the Bruins' roster and find legitimate reasons to hope 1975 will end their string of frustrations.

Coach Dick Vermeil has 34 lettermen back, including quarterback John Sciarra, fully recovered from an ankle fracture. UCLA should score a lot of points. Its problem will be the number scored by the other team.

STANFORD, THE ONLY TEAM to interrupt USC's Pac-8 and Rose Bowl dominance in recent memory, has similar defensive flaws but is loaded at quarterback. But then, the Cardinals never seem to be shy at that position.

California might not want to talk about that spot, having no one right now with the ability of its 1974 all-America, Steve Bartkowski.

Nothing much is new in the Pacific

TUNNEL VISION—Rutgers' Tony Pawlik seems headed for the exit, but he's really completing a 94-yard punt return against Princeton. A last-minute score by the Tigers provided a 6-6 tie for the only standoff in college football's oldest series.

Coast Athletic Association. San Diego is favored again and Long Beach State is on its way back.

The problems posed by all that class personnel at Oklahoma are most immediate, of course, for the other seven members of the Big Eight.

Nebraska, with victories in six straight bowl games, would be legendary almost anywhere else. In the Big Eight the Cornhuskers are just another very good team looking for a way to ambush the Sooners.

Missouri is missing 13 starters. A defense that ranged from good to catastrophic must be rebuilt. Oklahoma State will quietly tune up with four non-league foes before getting into serious trouble.

Colorado combed the junior college ranks for linebackers and Iowa State spent the off-season looking for ways to win the close ones.

The best that new coaches Ellis Rainsberger of Kansas State and Bud Moore at Kansas can hope for is patient alumni.

In the Missouri Valley, Tulsa will seek its third straight title.

No dramatic change in format is expected in the Big Ten, where Ohio State and Michigan have dwarfed their competition for years. But there are signs that such teams as Michigan State, Wisconsin, Purdue and Illinois are getting serious about their work.

There is a bit of bad news at Ohio State, where 13 starters are missing, including eight on defense. But Woody Hayes always manages to come up with even more good news, which this year includes the return of Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin, quarterback Cornelius Greene and both halves of a superb kicking game, Tom Skladany and Tom Klaban.

Michigan has missed undisputed Big Ten titles and all the accessories that go with them by the few inches that kept last-minute field goal attempts from beating Ohio State the past two seasons. The defense that made those near misses possible isn't likely to be any easier to deal with this fall.

MICHIGAN STATE, A LATE SEASON UPSET winner over Ohio State, could pull a repeat and be either a disaster area or No. 1 by midseason. The Spartans open against Ohio State, then play Miami of Ohio, North Carolina State, Notre Dame and Michigan.

Finding the leading independent in the Midwest is never very taxing. But Dan Devine, who has succeeded Ara Parseghian at Notre Dame, may have trouble finding an offense to replace the one Parseghian used in 1974.

The Mid-American Conference may at last have played its way out of its reputation as a "nice little league that is better than a lot of people think it is."

Miami of Ohio stretched its unbeaten steak to 23 games, beat Georgia in the Tangerine Bowl and ranked 10th in the country last year. The Redskins, who generally knock off one Big Ten team a year, can double their pleasure in '75 as they take on Michigan State and Purdue in early games.

ALABAMA HAS WON FOUR SOUTHEASTERN championships in a row, a record it expects to extend. But there is one streak Bryant would rather shatter. His teams have been to eight straight bowl games without winning one.

Included among the players Bryant refers to as the most physically gifted he's seen are quarterback Richard Todd, too many running backs to count and a defense that could have all-Americas fighting each other for position.

If preseason estimates are accurate, scoreboards will have to be re-wired for heavy duty all around the SEC.

Florida, which won eight games a year ago, has its backfield intact.

Georgia will score big points. So will Tennessee, even though Condredge Holloway won't be back to pass, run and skitter opponents to death.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS, 1924-74

For the third season in the last five, the wire services selected two teams to share the unofficial national championship in 1974. Oklahoma was voted the champion in the Associated Press (writers) poll, although on NCAA probation. Southern Cal, after edging Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, was voted the champion in the United Press International (coaches) poll. The coaches had voted not to consider teams on probation.

It was Southern Cal's sixth national championship since 1924. Only Notre Dame has more, with nine.

Southern Cal coach John McKay now has won or shared four national crowns—in 1962, 67, 72 and 74. This ties him for the lead with Alabama's Bear Bryant, Notre Dame's Frank Leahy and Minnesota's Bernie Bierman.

ODD MAN OUT is Virginia's Joe Sroba, buried by a quartet of Duke tacklers. Buck Bowers (14), Elmer Gilson (84), Lee Davis (24), and Bob Grupp (12) combined to pin Sroba at the bottom of the pile on the way to a 27-7 victory against the Cavaliers.

To go along with all that offense, however, those team must find somebody to play defense.

Louisiana State, always among the elite, is one SEC member that can't be all that sure about its offense.

THE SOUTHEASTERN'S PUSHOVER ROSTER was trimmed in 1974 by the desertion of Mississippi State, Vanderbilt and Kentucky.

Steve Sloan, now coaching at Texas Tech, left a tidy inheritance for Fred Pancoast at Vanderbilt. Mississippi State is proud of its running backs and Fran Curci knows he has a great one in Alfred "Sonny" Collins, the league's best rusher in 1974.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference the man in charge of title awards had best throw the 1975 trophy out in the middle of a grassy area and get out of the way.

Defending champion Maryland lost Outland Trophy winner Randy White and 18 other seniors but coach Jerry Claiborne is not destitute.

North Carolina State has the best family act in football, quarterback Dave Buckley throwing to brother Don, and that's only the beginning.

NORTH CAROLINA HAS PLENTY OF RUSHING and Clemson has enough of everything needed to qualify as a contender.

East Carolina is planning to win the Southern Conference crown but defender Virginia Military Institute doesn't figure on going quietly.

Among the independents, Pepper Rodgers sees nothing at Georgia Tech to dampen his perpetual optimism and Benny Ellender expects improvement at Tulane. Miami should win an award—for fearless scheduling. The Hurricanes must face Oklahoma, Nebraska, Colorado, Houston and Notre Dame.

Penn State, perennially plagued in the polls by schedules that do not impress voters from the outlands, will have a chance to establish itself early with games against Stanford and Ohio State.

But Joe Paterno will have to do it without all-America Mike Hartenstine, QB Tom Schuman, tight end Dan Natale and three other top receivers.

Pitt won seven games in 1974, a career for Panther players not too many years ago, and has Tony Dorsett back looking to add to his 2,590 yards.

BOSTON COLLEGE MAY BE READY to argue with the customary cast of Eastern powers. Coach Joe Yukica has an arsenal of offense, including a backfield guided by sharp-passing Mike Kruczek.

Temple, scuffling for the attention coach Wayne Hardin considers the team's due, will have 31 lettermen and a better defense.

Navy did some of its best work beating Penn State and losing a close one to Notre Dame last year. With improved quarterbacking the Middies could be consistently difficult. Army expects Leamon Hall's passing to bring the Cadets closer to the break-even point.

After five titles in a row, Dartmouth disappeared with scarcely a trace last year, leaving Harvard and Yale to share the Ivy League championship just ahead of Brown.

Brown? Indeed, and this could be the year the only league member never to win a championship sheds that dull distinction.

Almost everybody in the Ivy League is looking for a quarterback but Brown's John Anderson may not look any farther than Bob Bateman, who passed for 1,800 yards at Vermont before that school dropped football.

PRINCETON'S ONLY quarterback question is how many school records Ron Beible will set before he's through.

In the Southwest, Baylor will not sneak up on anybody this season but the Bears were more than willing to trade that asset for their first SWC championship in 50 years. And, along with 42 lettermen, they feel coach Grant Teaff got the best freshmen in the conference.

Texas A&M, which avoided the Cotton Bowl by not beating SMU and Texas, has a great deal of talent coming back to see about making amends.

TEXAS SHOULD HAVE a big offense but it may have to wait a while to get the ball. Steve Sloan, considered a miracle man at Vanderbilt, has enough material at Texas Tech to make occult capers unnecessary.

Frank Broyles has renovated his coaching staff in an effort to find an offense that will end the drought at Arkansas.

Houston is playing its final season as an independent and is unlikely to do anything that will tarnish the SWC's league image.

Nor is Louisiana Tech expected to ease up on its Southland Conference rivals. In four seasons Tech has never lost to a league opponent.

Hardly anybody did anything they were expected to do in the Western Athletic Conference in 1974.

Arizona State, always a tiger if for no other reason than coach Frank Kush's insistence, turned pacifist.

Brigham Young, generally mild mannered, won the championship.

This time around, Arizona is rated a contender and Kush's State teams automatically qualify. New Mexico could challenge if quarterback Steve Myer is fully recovered from knee surgery.

Utah State was the top independent a year ago and has the talent to repeat, starting with all-purpose yardage hoarder Louie Giammona.

Gentlemen, start your arguments.

East Croons The Quarterback Blues; Even Nittany Lions Joining Chorus

By KEN VAN SICKLE

Sports Editor, Ithaca (N.Y.) Journal

Director, Football Writers' Association of America

Out of the ordinary in this Eastern cradle of football is that just about everybody is wondering who is going to do the quarterbacking.

Old hat is that Penn State is strong again—well-poised for another race down to the wire and a good bet for more bowl and TV exposure.

The Nittany Lions have had the best record in the land with 85 wins, 15 losses and a tie in nine years under coach Joe Paterno. The Lions have reposed in the Top Ten and gone to a bowl seven of the last eight years.

Paterno has 25 lettermen returning from last year's Cotton Bowl champions, so State seems certain of a winner for a 37th straight year.

THERE ARE SOME OTHERS WHO POSE strong challenges. Pittsburgh, with six victories in 1973 and seven in 1974, is on the rise. Syracuse certainly will be greatly improved under second-year coach Frank Maloney. Temple, the surprise team in the East last year when it was 8-2, should hold to that high level. Boston College should be a potent force again.

There is optimism everywhere, even among the Ivy Leaguers where it is evident there are more "have nots" than there are "haves."

And about those quarterbacks.

Few places are sure who will be guiding them. Boston College is an exception. Coach Joe Yukica can turn to Mike Kruczek, who has outstanding credentials. Last fall, he completed a phenomenal 68 percent of his passes.

Penn State lost quarterback Tom Shuman, a rifle-armed passer who set a school record for touch-down passes, and Paterno admits that replacing this young man is the team's main task on offense.

PITTSBURGH lost Bill Daniels and Bob Medwid. Temple must find a successor to Steve Joachim and in the Ivies nearly everybody is looking, including Cornell's new George Seifert.

Ken Van Sickle is a veteran on the staff of the Ithaca Journal, working on his 40th year with the New York paper.

He made his newspaper debut writing college football, trying to extract morsels from tight-lipped Gilmour Dobie at Cornell. Now, he's outlasted five of Dobie's successors.

Van Sickle ascended to his current position at the Ithaca Journal in 1946 after a Navy stint that included editing a San Diego-based service publication.

A member of several sports writers' associations, including the Football Writers', Ken heads up the New York state Heisman Trophy selection committee.

"HOLY-DOUBLE-CROSS, BATMAN," exclaims open-mouthed Dartmouth halfback Roland Griggs as he sees the trap Holy Cross all-America safety John Provost is about to spring. Impending doom hung over Griggs and Dartmouth all afternoon in a 14-3 loss.

Duane Taylor backed up Donchez at fullback last year as a sophomore and ranked second in team rushing with 412 yards and a 5.1 average. Other top rushers returning are Jimmy Cefalo, Woody Petchel and Rusty Boyle. The offensive line appears strong with Tom Rafferty, Brad Benson, Mark Thomas and George Reihner. The defensive line must be reconstructed.

Greg Buttle heads a strong linebacking crew, and placekicker Chris Bahr is one of the country's finest.

PENN STATE SHOULD LEARN ITS STRENGTH very early. The first three games are with Stanford, Ohio State and Iowa.

Pittsburgh also appears to have a "schedule". The first two games are at Georgia and Oklahoma and the last two with Notre Dame and Penn State.

Coach Johnny Majors must place great reliance on running back Tony Dorsett, who gained 1,586 yards as a freshman and 1,004 as a sophomore. Then there is Elliott Walker who rushed for 431 yards and had a four-touchdown day when Dorsett couldn't play against Temple.

Wide-receiver-sprinter Karl Farmer gives Pitt the long bomb threat.

Besides quarterback Kruczek, Boston College also has the rest of the backfield returning. Fullback Keith Barnette, who led the nation in scoring with 134 points, should power the ground attack. Center Don Macek keys the offensive line.

WIDE RECEIVER DAVE ZUMBACH, who is on the verge of setting a number of B.C. pass-catching records, will be Kruczek's main target. Cornerback Dave Almeida is a solid choice for "All" honors. The Eagles have a fine field goal kicker in Fred Steinfort.

B.C. wrapped up the '74 season in fine style, winning six straight and outscored its opponents 270 to 27. It opens with Notre Dame.

"I think our team will be better but the strength of your team will not always show in your record if the competition is stronger," said Temple coach Wayne Hardin. "I feel that our team has improved in each of my five years at Temple." The Owls were 8-2 last year, 17-3 over two seasons.

HARDIN HAS 31 LETTERMEN BACK, and looks for the defense to be better. Heading the returnees is middle guard Joe Klecko, a 6-3, 262-pounder whom Hardin feels is a sure all-America. Two other good ones are defensive back Bob Mizia and flanker Pete Righi. Prospects for Joachim's job are his backup man, Dick Bedesem, and two transfers, Pat Carey and Bob Baker.

At Syracuse Maloney figures "We're a young team, with sophomores probably holding anywhere from 15 to 20 spots on the first two units."

The first backfield is pretty much intact. Besides Donoghue, Ken Kinsey is at tailback and other returnees are Don Magee, Fred Glasgow, Jim Sessler, Will James, Tom Voyda and Jim Jenkins. The offensive line must be rebuilt. Tackle Jose St. Victor should anchor it. Lonnie Allgood and Joe Brennan are outstanding receivers. The defense should be much stronger. Linebacker Ray Preston and Larry King, a halfback, are key men.

AN EXPERIENCED OFFENSIVE UNIT, headed by a corps of talented running backs, is expected to blend with a rebuilt defense at West Virginia. Coach Bobby Bowden has nine offensive starters back and five on defense.

For the first time since 1972 West Virginia will have solid quarterbacking. Bowden expects much from a trio of sophomores, Dan Kendra, Tom Loadman and Danny Williams, or from senior Ben Williams.

Artie Owens, 5-10 senior speedster who netted 1,130 yards in '74, leads a strong backfield. The offensive line, led by all-East tackle Dave Van WALKING TALL is Yale cornerback Don Viglione to knock down a pass in a meeting with Colgate. Though he appears to have caught the pass, he couldn't hold on for an interception, though Yale did hold on for a decisive 30-7 victory.

Halanger, returns intact except for wide receivers. The team should have strong linebacking with Steve Dunlap and Ken Culbertson.

Army and Navy have been marching back and both hope to top .500 this year. The 6-5 Leamon Hall, first-year man in '74, strictly a passer, figures prominently as a quarterback at West Point. Coach Homer Smith has switched to a pro slot to take full advantage of him.

Although there are 27 lettermen, Army is a young team. The offensive line should return intact; also the secondary. Three good ball-carriers are Markus Hardy, Brad Dodrill and Greg McGlasker.

LAST YEAR NAVY BEAT PENN STATE, 7-6, and led Notre Dame for three periods before losing, 14-6. This year it could become a winner if coach George Welsh can gear up the offense to complement a veteran defensive group. He has 29 lettermen, eight of them defensive starters.

Navy lacked a consistent passing game last year but Welsh has high hopes for quarterbacks Mike Roban and Phil Poirier.

Lettermen Mike Yeager and Ike Owens, the latter a speedster, are the top wide receiver candidates.

The loss through graduation of the Academy's all-time rushing leader, Cleveland Cooper, may be offset by the return of two excellent fullbacks, 6-4, 230-pound Bob Jackson and 5-10 195-pound Gerry Goodwin.

Rover Chet Moeller, tackle Dave Papak and linebacker Andy Bushak are the foundation of the defense.

HOLY CROSS FOOTBALL WILL BE BETTER than a 5-5-1 record a year ago. Of 46 letterwinners, 39 return. Nine starters are back on both offense and defense. The big loss is star safety John Provost.

The key men offensively are junior quarterback Bob Morton, who completed 101 of 188 passes for 1,077 yards last Fall, ran for 406 more and accounted for 11 touchdowns, and senior Dave Quehl, fourth in the country in receiving and best in the East with 62 catches.

Big on defense are middle guard Lou Kobza and three-year starters defensive tackle John Trimbach and defensive end Frank Matasavage.

A CHINK IN THE WALL—West Virginia's Ron Lee found something few schools did in the Penn State defense—a gaping hole at the goal line. Lee scored but the Mountaineers faltered, and the Nittany Lions plugged the gap for a 21-12 victory.

STEPPING OUT—Rochester's Steve Callihan took more than a few steps in the right direction. UR's senior split end led the way for the Yellow Jackets with six catches, 65 yards and a touchdown to ensure a 13-6 homecoming celebration against Union.

Last year Dartmouth was the pre-season Ivy League title selection. So it was a bit of a surprise when Harvard and Yale tied for top spot.

If the Crimson can come up with a quarterback from a host of inexperienced people it should have the ingredients for another exciting offense. Cambridge folks have learned to have great faith in the imaginativeness and the know how of coach Joe Restic.

Not only must Restic find a replacement for QB Milt Holt, but somebody to fill the big shoes of all-America split end Pat McNally, Harvard's most decorated football player in over three decades.

"We're facing the most severe quarterback problem in my five years at Harvard," Restic said. "There's no one here now who has ever completed a pass in varsity competition."

Unless there is that big quarterback discovery in the Harvard camp the running game might be exploited. Harvard has good ones in halfback Tommy Winn and fullback Neal Miller. The receiving corps could be productive despite the loss of McNally. Junior Jim Curry is available.

If defense will do it Yale should go a long way.

"We'll be a fairly young club," said Coach Carmen Cozza, "but most of our experience is on defense where we have outstanding people."

He referred specifically to captain and linebacker John Smoot, monster back John Cahill, linebacker Brent Kirk and safety Mark McAndrews.

"Offensively, tackle Charlie Palmer and split end Gary Fencik could play for anyone and Don Gesicki is a hard-running back. Where we need help is mainly in the offensive line, and at quarterback."

After winning four straight games at the end of 1974 Brown coach John Anderson is hopeful the Bruins can pick up where they left off.

Unanticipated strength could be a quarterback transfer, Bob Bateman, 6-6, 187-pound senior. He moved to Providence from Vermont when that school dropped football. Last year Bateman passed for over 1,800 yards, ranking him second nationally among NCAA Division II passers.

Anderson can expect 34 lettermen back, among them 18 of the 24 starters who keyed Brown to a 5-4 record.

Brown, the only league member which hasn't had at least a share of the crown, appears to have the wherewithall to figure for the first time.

Princeton's big loss is running back Walt Snickenberger. But coach Bob Casciola feels there is good balance, experience and depth and best of all, key people in the skill positions. There is Beible, of course, and fullback Bob Reid, also a two-year starter. The receiving will be led by Neil Chamberlain and Kevin Gropp.

All-Ivy guard Joe Zajac leads the returning offensive line contingent. The defensive secondary could be the best in the league, with Ed Sheridan, Tom Palmer and Rich Monaghan.

Columbia is one of the few with a returning quarterback veteran. Mike Delaney returns but he will have a battle from sophomore Kevin Burns.

Bob Watson, 6-3 and 205, moves to tight end from flanker. Dexter Brown, last year's top receiver, will be back at split end.

Coach Bill Campbell looks for running backs Doug Jackson and Mike Hansen to key the attack. Eddie Backus, if he is able to shake a knee injury, should be one of the league's better defensive backs.

Seifert inherits a Cornell squad that is generally well-experienced. The quarterback is expected to be one of three—senior Bob Balash, junior Joe Mollica and sophomore Garland Burns.

If Seifert can find somebody to throw, there are plenty of receivers. Bruce Starks, fifth nationally with a 5.2 per game average, is back and so are Don Wierbinski, Eamon McEneaney and Tim LaBeau.

ONCE AGAIN DON FANELLI IS A PRE-SEASON prospect for stardom as a runner, if only he can get past mid-season. A knee ailment forced him out in the fifth game in 1973 and in the fourth game in 1974. The Red also has LaBeau, fullback Kevin Scott and sophomore Larry Skoczylas and Neal Hall.

A defensive standout should be Steve Horrigan.

Dartmouth finished out of the league's first division for the first time since 1968 and the second time since 1955.

But coach Jake Crouthamel has taken heart. There will be 28 lettermen returning and some promising sophomores. Mike Brait, an alternate last year, returns at quarterback. Junior Roland Griggs was a late fullback standout at fullback.

The Green looks to be strong defensively. The leader is Reggie Williams, superb middle linebacker, and Skip Cummins.

Graduation has taken an uncommon toll at Pennsylvania. Fortunately coach Harry Gamble returns a fine runner in Jack Wixted.

DEFENSIVELY, PENN WILL BE STRONG at linebacker and in the backfield but up front only end Bill Beibolt and middle guard Bill Petuskey return. Linebacker Bob Mardula is all-Ivy hopeful.

Rutgers comes off a 7-3-1 year and coach Frank Burns is blessed with 34 lettermen, six starters on both offense and defense. Junior Bert Kowup will direct the wing-T again. Senior fullback Curt Edwards and sophomore Mike Fisher complement with their running.

The Scarlet should be strong defensively with the help of Tom Holmes and Dwight Lipscomb, linebackers, and Nat Toran, end.

Villanova under new coach Dick Bedesem will try to rebound from last year's disappointing 3-8 record. The schedule has been changed to a regionalized rather than an intersectional one.

Bedesem inherits 25 lettermen, a sound defensive nucleus and an offense which had trouble moving the ball last year. The offense will be built around quarterback Brian Sikorski, guard Joe Sopczynski, and wide receivers John Mastronardo and Jeff McGeehin.

NEIL WHEELWRIGHT AT COLGATE, just over one rebuilding year, appears in line for another. Quarterback Bruce Basile controls the wishbone, but a lot of work is needed on defense.

If Delaware's offensive line can develop into a cohesive unit, the Blue Hens could capture the Lambert Cup an eighth straight year.

Delaware should be strong in the backfield. Three returning starters are quarterback Bill Zwaan, halfback Tom James and fullback Nate Beasley.

Bucknell returns 25 lettermen, including linebacker Ralph Turri. Lehigh's offense will be built around the running of Rod Gardner and Mark Weaver. Quarterback Mark Jones hopes to hypo an anemic Lafayette offense.

Last fall marked the closest race in Yankee Conference history with one game separating the first six teams. With Vermont no longer fielding a football team, a blanket finish is once again a strong possibility.

Maine won its last four games to tie Massachusetts for the top spot and returns 29 lettermen including perhaps its best balanced backfield ever. UMass returns 30 lettermen, among them 15 starters, and will be difficult to dislodge from the top of the standings.

Boston University's strength will probably switch to offense and the Terriers could challenge for their first league title. Connecticut has finished first or second seven of the last eight years and figures to contend again.

League-leading ground gainer Rich Romondino heads the Rhode Island contingent, while New Hampshire finished strong last season with a young squad and could cause plenty of trouble for league opponents this year.

A wild scramble is expected in the NEFC as Nichols, Plymouth, Boston State, Bridgewater and Framingham all have a shot at the conference crown.

Nichols, champion for the past two years, has 38 lettermen back led by all-conference picks Don Leonard, Mike Hackenson, Mike Keefe and Noel Lefebvre.

Plymouth has 35 lettermen including eight defensive starters led by Bill Stumpf, and on offense by Fred Quinlin and Steve Nelson. Bridgewater has 29 back led by Paul Brennan, tackle Bill Nixon and Tom Glynn.

Framingham should be much improved with all-conference center Mark Vajcovec, Bill Larson and all three starting running backs. Boston State returnees are led by tackle Tom Alonardo, Steve Buckley, Franke Dente and Al Bibeau.

Curry rebuilds with Tom Fair, Marty Bissonette and end Rich Moran. Mass. Maritime figures to improve, as does Maine Maritime. New Haven has nowhere to go but up, and returns 35 veterans.

											*Defeated West Chester for title.

Slippery Rock's path to an unprecedented fourth straight Pennsylvania Conference football championship is lined with thorns.

Principally Edinboro, possibly Indiana, and potentially Clarion could take the Western Division title away from the Rock in '75. Perennial Eastern Division power West Chester figures to await the arrival of the winner from the west.

Slippery Rock lost 13 starters to graduation including four all-Americans, and faces a massive rebuilding job, especially on offense, where the key casualty was tailback Ed O'Reilly, who gained over 2,500 yards in two seasons.

Edinboro has 40 lettermen and 18 starters returning including quarterback Jude Basile and all-conference Rick Vornadore (OT) and George Miller (DB).

Indiana was hit hard by diploma fever, but IUP has first team all-America quarterback Lynn Heiber returning to make the Indians a threat. Clarion lost many veterans but has the nucleus of another solid outfit back.

Shippensburg, the PC's surprise team a year ago, will be a force to be reckoned with, while Lock Haven and California are striving for improvement.

In the East, West Chester must replace six all-conference players if it hopes to gain its seventh straight divisional title. The Golden Rams' best are running backs Herb Mills and Chip Azwoiski and linebacker Gary Smith.

Millersville also suffered losses but still has a trio of all-PC performers in Mike Squires (WR), Greg Meyers (LB), and Barry Brunner (PK).

Cheyney is the most likely to move up with a veteran squad headed by fullback Abel Joe. East Stroudsburg has a new coach in Dennis Douds.

Kutztown, Mansfield, and Bloomsburg point for the first division.

Glassboro State, winner of its first outright championship last year, is the favorite to take its second consecutive NJSCAC crown.

The big reason for the Profs' favorite role is halfback Robie Reid. The speedy halfback has already put together two straight 1,000-yard seasons and is one of the top College Division players in the East.

All of the teams which have hopes of taking the conference crown away from Glassboro State have major question marks. The chief contenders figure to be Montclair State, Trenton State and Kean.

Montclair State, which fell out of contention last year for the first time since the conference was formed back in 1968, should be improved, but coach Clay Anderson's eleven will be going with an untried quarterback and that could sidetrack the Indians' title hopes early in the season.

Kean and Trenton State have young teams that will be a year away from a title run. Jersey City State and William Paterson must rebuild and will probably fight it out for the cellar.

In the MAC Northern Division the 1974 champ, undefeated Wilkes, looks like the team to beat. Wilkes returns five all-star selections: offensive guard Frank Wengen, running back Fred Lohman, defensive end Lou Maczuga, line-backer Steve Leskiw and defensive back Fred Marianacci. Also returning for the Colonels are quarterback Gregg Snyder and leading punter Don McDermott.

Runner-up Juniata and a veteran Albright squad should provide the strongest opposition to Wilkes' title bid.

Delaware Valley and Susquehanna hope to improve while Lycoming and Upsala remain on the outside looking in.

In the Southern Division Franklin and Marshall's undefeated Diplomats won their fourth straight title and are favored to make it five in a row in 1975, led by junior quarterback Joe Coviello. Pressing the champs should be Widener.

Dickinson and Moravian may challenge the leaders with Lebanon Valley and Western Maryland also hoping to move up.

Last year Ithaca finished the regular season with a 9-0 mark and led the nation in total offense. The Bombers appear to again be the team to beat.

Hobart should be right in the thick of the ICAC scramble as little all-America Rich Kowalski returns at halfback along with 22 lettermen. St. Lawrence expects a solid offensive attack with the return of quarterback John Farrar and powerful running back Rick Klingman. The outlook for Alfred is bright with little all-America Joe Van Cura returning at defensive end.

Leading the way for 45 returning lettermen at RPI is middle guard Mike Carbone, who last year made the all-East team as a sophomore. Rochester Tech seeks to turn around last year's 1-7-0 overall record.

Undefeated 1974 titlist C. W. Post will attempt to gain a fourth straight Metropolitan Conference crown in 1975. Coach Dom Anile's forces will rely on senior Bill Lewis, Met rushing leader last year, and junior Major Finklin to supply a strong ground game. Senior ends Mike Hintz and Rich Maake add experience to the offensive unit, and only one defensive starter was lost.

Kings Point, runnerup a year ago, will be a strong contender. George Paterno's squad has 14 returning starters, led by senior running backs Brian Streaser and Jack Castagna. The defense will be missing five regulars.

Seton Hall, led by the top Met passer, Jerry Castaldo, possesses an explosive offensive team that includes backs Lou Racioppe and Bob Lennon.

Wagner looks to QB Glen Galante and halfback Greg Lindsey to improve its fortunes. The defense was hit hard by graduation. Fordham hopes to upswing in 1975 as new coach David Rice inherits a potent running attack. Another new coach, Bill Leete, faces a rebuilding year at Hofstra.

Eastern Division II & III Independents

By HOWARD DAVIS, Sports Information Director, Springfield College

Williams was one of the class teams in the East in 1974, posting a 7-1 record and winning the New England College Division championship. Coach Bob Odell's defensive unit was decimated by graduation, but will be bolstered by cornerback Scott Perry. The Little Three champs return quarterback Jim Baldwin.

Bridgeport, always in contention for New England laurels, has decided to end the fall wars and drop football from its program.

Amherst boosts one of the finest tight ends in the East in 6-4, 240-pound Dave Comderford. The Jeffs should be strong in starters, but might lack depth. Rounding out the Little Three, Wesleyan will have more candidates in camp than in past years. Bran Vanacore is an experienced quarterback.

Central Conn. lost Tony Giaquinto and other key performers to graduation. The Blue Devils still figure to have enough material for another fine season.

Middlebury will look to youth, while Bates returns many key personnel from a 4-4 team in 1974. Hugo Colasante started at quarterback as a freshman.

Norwich won its final five contests and the Cadets should have plenty of offensive punch with running back Sam Pizzimenti. Worcester Tech's Engineers return their entire backfield, led by Dave McCormick.

Springfield will be led by defensive stalwarts Roy Samuelson and Ken Mitchell. Tufts looks to Daryl Brown to give Jumbo fans plenty of excitement.

New York State shows Cortland returning the mainstay of its offensive backfield in addition to top receiver Tim Arden. Rochester looks to College Division all-America safety Ralph Gebhardt to bolster its defensive unit.

"UPSIE DAISIE!"—North Carolina State linebacker Mike Daley hoists South Carolina running back Clarence Williams over his shoulder like a sack of sugar. The outcome of the game was sweeter for the Wolfpack which toppled the Gamecocks, 42-27.

'Pack Plans Atlantic Coast Ambush, But Tide No Surprise In SEC Race

By ALF VAN HOOSE

Sports Editor, Birmingham News

Director, Football Writers' Association of America

Grand gentleman Bernie H. Moore, former Southeastern Conference commissioner, with wisdom reflecting a coaching career which produced both football and track national championships at LSU—an unmatched double—enjoyed telling banquet audiences his athletic philosophy. Many a dimly-lighted hall heard this cornerstone bit:

"The worst thing that can happen to an athlete" Moore would say, "is to play on a team which loses all its games. The next worst thing is to play on one which wins all its games."

MOORE'S OBSERVATION IS RECALLED on the eve of another football season in Dixie, all teams unbeaten, untied; old alumni thinking young again and dreaming in orange, sugar, gator and cotton colors, and that great Saturday feeling in the air, everywhere.

Very few Southern teams have lost every contest in recent seasons. None has won them all, either.

And that gets us to the king team of the South in the turbulent Seventies—Alabama. Bear Bryant's club. It set a conference mark in 1974, grabbing a fourth straight championship but, for an eighth straight year, it failed to win a bowl.

There was one tie in that winless bowl string—with Oklahoma—but Alabama doesn't cherish ties. Few others do, either.

Sports editor Alf Van Hoose has been with The Birmingham News since his military days, which were climaxed by six months in George Patton's Third Army and a Silver Star.

Except for one disappointing year spent covering politicians, business folk and civic leaders, Van Hoose has been a sports-writer—and vows to remain in that trade.

A graduate of the University of Alabama journalism school, he has no particular favorite assignment. However, because his legs went first as with all aging athletes, he does list his priorities in personal participation: in order—hunting, fishing and golf.

Will this be the year for Bama to go a perfect route? It could be. The Crimson Tide is again the team to beat in the SEC—and the SEC has been college football's toughest league for 10 years.

Doubt that? Look it up. Check the final Associated Press polls since 1965. The SEC has had 23 teams in the top 10; the Big Ten, 18; the Big Eight, 17, and down the line.

Bear is loaded. He admits to commanding the "finest physical talent I've seen around here."

Bryant begins his 18th year at his alma mater. There have been four national titles, then three galling bowl misses the last four years.

Along the mid-Atlantic seaboard, territory of the Atlantic Coast Conference and Southern Conference, and among most independents sprinkled throughout the South, Alabama is not a worry. Let SEC folk moan about that situation, they reason.

IT APPEARS A BATTLE ROYAL IN BOTH the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conferences. Jimmy the Greek would go nuts.

Bryant-disciple Jerry Claiborne's Maryland took the ACC flag a year ago but graduation was fierce. The same story was true for Virginia Military Institute, suprise Southern Conference winner but not at all bashful about claiming its just reward.

Georgia Tech and Tulane, SEC ship-jumpers a decade ago, should be the best of the independents. Virginia Tech will dispute that and possibly South Carolina, with a new director for '75.

Back to Bama now, and a brief and orderly look-see down the line.

Only a half-dozen of the Tide's starting 25 (including kicking specialists) have departed since a second straight January 1 defeat by Notre Dame. Ability abounds to replace them.

ON OFFENSE, RICHARD TODD WILL quarterback again and feed a host of runners, including Willie Shelby, Calvin Culliver and Johnny Davis, and pass to Ozzie Newsome and George Pugh.

Two Alabama frosh have to be mentioned—quarterback Jeff Rutledge, 6-2 and 195, and runner Tony Nathan, 6-2 and 200, both of Birmingham. Mark 'em future Heisman Trophy contenders.

All-America end Leroy Cook leads a Tide defense which should be outstanding. Guard Gus White, linebackers Woody Lowe and Greg Montgomery and safety Alan Pizzitola are, with Cook, a never-resting defense.

Auburn lost to Alabama, 17-13, but after destroying Texas, 27-3, in the Gator Bowl, the Tigers wanted a rematch. They'll get it in November. Auburn's offense could be something special, quarterback Phil Gargis maestroing behind a Steeler-size blocking front. But, retiring coach Ralph Jordan must rebuild the defensive corps.

HE'S DONE IT BEFORE. War Eagles hit and hunt. Oaken-stump-size Rick Telhiard is a heckuva tackle. Chris Arnold is tough defending a corner.

Seedrick McIntyre and Mitzi Jackson can run a football, fast and far.

Doug Dickey went wishboning at Florida in '74 as Alabama has done winning 43 of 44 regular season games. The Gators won eight, lost four.

Florida's backfield returns, starring quarterback Don Gaffney and super frosh Tony Green at halfback.

The Gators lost star linebackers Glenn Camerson and Ralph Ortega, but tackles Darrell Carpenter and Scott Hutchinson could be exceptional.

Louisiana State, Tennessee and Georgia are most always high SEC society. It's not automatic in 1975. Georgia appears to have the best chance.

For years, Vince Dooley's Dogs lived well mainly because of defense. Goaded by state critics about a covered-wagon sort of attack, Dooley quietly built a Veer offense which oft times was spectacular in '74. But, the defense—well, it wasn't dazzling.

GEORGIA'S OFFENSE IS PRIME-QUALITY again, directed by junior QB Matt Robinson. Glynn Harrison is an A-plus runner. Gene Washington can fly, catch passes and return punts and kickoffs. Who will stop the enemy?

Tennessee and LSU, famed citadels on defense in glorious by-gones, had problems there a year ago—Tennessee, however, not as disastrously as '73.

"NO, YOU GO!" suggests Wake Forest tight end Dean Brendel to coach Chuck Mills. Brendel may have been convinced of the futility of his own efforts as the Deacons endured a 33-15 season-opening loss to North Carolina State's Wolfpack.

Bill Battle's Vols have to locate a quarterback to replace thrilling Condredge Holloway. Tennessee has a great runner in Stan Morgan, a fine receiver in Larry Sievers. Mickey Marvin blocks well.

Battle must get aid and depth around linebackers Andy Spiva and Steve Poole, and Ron McCartney and corner Mike Mauck.

Charlie McClendon tried to march with the fashion at LSU last September and run a Veer. It didn't work. Now, it's back to the "I," hopeful that someone will show up to drive his bus.

TACKLES STEVE CASSIDY AND ADAM DUHE are bulwark defenders; Terry Robiskie and Robert Dow can run and Richard Romain can catch passes.

To neutral observers (if there be such), the rise-to-respect emergence of perennial SEC have-nots was a '74 development.

Mississippi State won nine games. Vanderbilt and Kentucky were no longer exhibition matches for the bully boys in the league. Each indicates it will stay tough for the 1975 campaign.

Fred Pancoast inherited a slew of starters, 19, from Steve Sloan at Vanderbilt. The wealth included QB Fred Fisher, runner Lonnie Sadler, receiver Jesse Mathers and defenders Tom Galbierz and Jay Chesley.

Bob Tyler lost superb field general, Rocky Felker, but not much more. Mississippi State boasts that its rushing corps is the best in the area with Walter Packer, Dennis Johnson and Terry Vitran.

Letterman Bruce Threadgill is the bet to succeed Felker. Harvey Hull, nose guard; end Wally Cox and linebacker Ray Costrict are defensive aces.

AT KENTUCKY, FRAN CURCI STIRRED UP the natives to near-basketball attention with a sound, unflashy offense headlined by Alfred Collins.

Collins was voted best ball-toter in the league. He's back.

If Curci locates a passer to go with all-SEC offensive tackle, Walter Bryant, and attains consistency on defense, the Cats will have fun again.

Ole Miss, once a front-runner with anyone, was not a sound team in 1974. Ken Cooper's talent-barrel is not overstocked, as during John Vaught's great years, but it's not bare either.

James Reed and Paul Hofer are excellent runners. Bruce Evans has QB promise. No one has a better defensive tackle than Ben Williams.

Up in ACC land, any diplomat would review the scramble school-by-school, alphabetically. Not a bad idea.

UP THE MIDDLE—Virginia left little doubt about the battle plan in an attempt to block an extra-point try by Virginia Military Institute. Though the kick was good, it did little to slice into the Cavaliers' 28-10 margin of victory.

KICKING UP HIS HEELS is Virginia Tech's Phil Rogers, who has apparently adopted a new method of kicking. None of the Gobblers was kicking up his heels after the game as Houston came out on top with plenty of room to spare, 49-12.

Red Parker's Clemson has to be a pennant threat, with such as Benny Cunningham, Ken Callicutt, Mike O'Cain and Dennis Smith around.

Cunningham is a tight end who performs to loftiest standards. Callicutt rushed for 807 yards in '74 and O'Cain came on at quarterback. Cornerback Smith was the circuit's top pass thief.

Duke has assets to envy in Hal Spears, QB; runners Tony Benjamin and Larry Martinez; linebacker Dave Meier; secondary patroler Earl Cook and exciting kick-returner Troy Slade.

Maryland will get the favorite's role, no doubt, because few leave a champ until he's licked. But, Claiborne lost 19 seniors, and no one around resembles Randy White, the nation's No. 1 lineman.

Joe Campbell isn't a bad tackle, however, and Mike Manges showed promise at quarterback. Rick Jennings rushed for 470 yards a year ago, and wingback John Schultz scored nine touchdowns. They're all returning.

At North Carolina, ACC coach-dean Dooley starts counting blessings with the only two 1,000-yard rushers ever to play the same position in a single season, Boom Boom Betterson and Mike Voight. Dynamic chaps.

Bill Paschall figures as quarterback, bullish Mark Cantrell as center and Rod Broadway as defensive tackle.

Interesting Tarheel outside foes include Ohio State and Notre Dame.

N. C. State will be heard from—again . . . and again. Lou Holtz's Wolf-pack is catching eyes across the land. They can play.

The Pack has a wonderful brother act going, quarterback Dave Buckey to receiver Don Buckey. They can play, too.

PULLING OUT THE STOPS—Florida linebacker Glenn Cameron was a bit unorthodox in his methods of bringing Auburn's Sedrick McIntyre to a halt. Cameron's innovative tackling technique worked along with the Gators' game plan in a 25-14 success story.

So can Johnny Evans, QB-runner and punter; Tom Higgins, middle linebacker; defender-kick returner Ralph Stringer and end Mike Hardy.

Sonny Randle will have those Virginia Cavaliers stirring up mischief again. The ex-pro catching ace never played for Vince Lombardi but takes a line or two from him in coaching his Virginia crew.

Scott Gardner might have led the country in total offense in 1974 except for a foot injury which pitted him the last four games. He is class—225.1 yards per game declare that.

Gardner's running stable includes Joe Sroba and David Sloan. Rich Switalski is a star center for the Cavaliers.

Eight Virginia defenders are gone from '74.

Wake Forest is yet rebuilding but should begin to reap the benefits from a youth program launched two years ago.

Mike McGlamry and Sol Everett can quarterback and Clark Gaines, Jim Mach and John Kronforst know how to carry a football.

If Pat Dye's East Carolina doesn't sweep the Southern Conference, it will surprise many. Richmond and defending champ Virginia Military Institute will debate the issue sternly; Appalachian State might, too.

Dye, a former Bryant aid, got a wishbone rolling at East Carolina and contends runner Kenny Strayhorn could play with anybody. Mike Weaver is a joy to Dye, quarterbacking the attack.

East Carolina greets eight returning starters on offense, five coming back on defense—including the vital deep-four group, VMI's gutty positions appear in good shape. Losses in the skill spots were huge. Kim Glidewell, well named, gained 764 yards in the title run and hopes to do better this season. Phil Upton and John Willison, at guard and linebacker, bolster the defense.

Jim Taitt had a 5-5 debut at Richmond. His defense has experience, boosted by Orlandus and Garland Branch and Jim Satyshur.

Appalachian State's prize jewels are quarterback Robby Price and receiver-return specialist Devon Ford, a stumpy 175-pounder of national rank. Ford averaged 15.8 per punt return and 20.5 on kickoffs.

Coach Jim Brakefield has the nation's No. 1 punter aboard to go along with Ford and Price. That is Joe Parker, a 44.3-yard booter.

Furman and Art Baker are pleased with 16 returning regulars, including tailback Larry Robinson and David Whitehurst. Bobby Church is strong at defensive tackle for the Paladins.

The brag boys at The Citadel are Andrew Johnson, 5-11 and 200, and quarterback Gene Dotson. Johnson is all-America calibre. He netted 1,373 yards a year ago. Dotson had 1,203 yards of offense.

Jim Root lost most of his offense boys at William and Mary but Ivan Fears and Tom Smith are ball-carriers returning. On defense, the leaders should be Ken Brown, tackle, and Sam Patton, defensive back.

Davidson, pulling back the reins on football, does not play enough conference games to qualify for the title.

Pepper Rodgers absolutely turned Georgia Tech's football program uphill in 1974. Always the optimist, Pepper believes the Yellow Jackets will show

TRAITOR?—William and Mary quarterback Bill Deery seems to have an unlikely ally as Virginia's Eric Dahlgren appears to be tackling Sam Pfabe away from Deery. Despite the apparent lack of cooperation, the Cavaliers prevailed, 38-28.

Tech's pure-vanilla offense has seven letter winners back, and eight frontliners are there again on defense.

Danny Myers, quarterback; Tony Head, fullback, and David Sims, halfback, are excellent as is center Leo Tierney.

Lucius Sanford, with a record 124 tackles during frosh linebacking, and deep backs Danny Rhino and Eddie Porter sparkle on defense.

Bernie Ellender had a 5-6 year at Tulane. He was very disappointed. Six starters return on each unit.

Mark Olivari, middle guard, and Martin Mitchell, defensive back, are honor candidates. Terry Looney is capable at quarterback. Steve Treuting and Miles Clements are veteran running backs—and good ones.

At Miami, assistant Carl Selmer, once of Nebraska, moved up as head coach. He'll inherit a schedule to test him, including Oklahoma, Nebraska, Colorado and Houston in a row. Notre Dame comes later.

The Hurricanes will be young. Gary Dunn is bellcow on defense at tackle and Larry Bates, 225-pound fullback, a key on offense.

South Carolina, Memphis State and Southern Mississippi have new coaches. Florida State had one last year, and the Seminoles should continue to move along a comeback trail.

Jim Carlen is the fresh boss at South Carolina; Richard Williamson at Memphis State and Lee Collins at Southern Mississippi. All should do all right but, Rome wasn't built in a year—neither is a strong football base.

At South Carolina, experienced QB Jeff Grantz will be back to help Carlen, who plans to teach the Gamecocks the fifty defense while sticking with the triple option attack.

Tampa dropped football.

Virginia Tech, under sharp Jimmy Sharpe, once Bryant's offense chief at Alabama, started slowly in '74, then exploded points down the stretch.

If Michael Barnes can do the wishbone quarterbacking, Virginia Tech will surely get ground yards from Phil Rogers and George Heath.

Tackle Tom Beasley is a key man on defense.

Defending Gulf South Conference champion Jacksonville State could become the league's first back-to-back grid title holder in 1975. Clarkie Mayfield returns most of his offensive unit, including all-America tackle Calvin Word.

Delta State has QB Bobby Barrett, the GSC's total offense leader a year ago, and at Livingston, the entire offensive backfield, which set several league rushing marks, is back.

Southeastern Louisiana is coming off its best season in over a decade, while Troy State must replace an offensive line and stabilize a young defense.

North Alabama won its final four games and was the only league team to beat Jacksonville, thereby providing cautious optimism for '75. Nicholls State, Northwestern Louisiana, Tennessee-Martin and Mississippi College attempt to rebound from losing seasons.

Howard, South Carolina State, North Carolina A&T and North Carolina Central are expected to be in the thick of battle for the 1975 MEAC crown.

Howard returns 37 lettermen, including 17 starters and MEAC offensive player of the year, QB Michael Banks. Defending champion South Carolina State has 20 lettermen, headed by defensive player of the year, end Harry Carson.

A&T has to replace the entire linebacking crew and N. C. Central must beef up the defensive unit. Morgan State needs fresh offensive and defensive lines.

Delaware State will be trying to improve with a new head coach, while Maryland-Eastern Shore has 24 letter winners returning for the '75 campaign.

Champions rarely repeat in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association as each year all schools seem to gang up on the former champion, Norfolk State, despite all-CIAA QB Steve Graeff, is not expected to finish first again.

Livingstone College, team leader in rushing defense and total defense the past two seasons, should put together a strong offense to be top contender.

The passing of Alphonso Taylor should give Virginia Union the air game to match the running game which took them to the '73 championship.

The final standings should find Livingstone, Virginia Union, Hampton Institute and Virginia State topping the conference.

With 43 lettermen back, the Eastern Kentucky Colonels will be strong favorites to defend their conference title. They will be led by all-America tailback Everett Talbert and five other all-conference selections.

Western Kentucky poses its usual title threat with lots of experience and a strong defensive unit. The linebackers, led by senior Rick Green, are especially tough. Austin Peay has hopes resting on 21 returning lettermen, headed by defensive back Robert Tripp and soph tailback Henry Yarber.

Thirty-one returning lettermen and the renewed enthusiasm that goes with a coaching change are the pluses for Middle Tennessee and new coach Ben Hurt.

Tennessee Tech looks for better things with 41 returners and the dividends of a banner recruiting year.

East Tennessee State has an optimistic outlook based on a fine performance in the last half of '74, a solid nucleus of veterans and great recruiting.

Morehead State feels things are going to improve with 20 starters and more experienced reserves coming back.

Runnerup Murray State had big losses at QB, running back and the interior line positions, and these must be filled to make the Racers a contender.

Southern Divisions II-III Independents

By STEVE WHITE, Sports Information Director, Western Carolina University

Western Carolina in Division II and Towson State in Division III appear to have enough returning talent to repeat as the top southern teams in their respective divisions.

Quarterback Jeff Walker, highly-touted tight end Mike Green and running backs Darrell Lipford and Herb Cole head up Western's explosive offense.

Coach Bob Waters must look for adequate replacements for five standouts gone from last season's fourth-ranked defense.

Tennessee State, a perennial top ten and playoff contender, could bounce back from last year's "off" 8-2 record.

UT-Chattanooga expects to be improved but plays a suicide schedule.

Towson State posted a perfect 10-0 record and won the now-disbanded Mason-Dixon Conference title last season. The Tigers have sensational quarterback Dan Dullea returning along with the entire defensive unit that yielded only three touchdowns on the ground.

Salisbury State, Millsaps and Maryville expect improved records.

Changes Not Forecast In Big Ten's Upper Fifth; Irish Looking Devine

By BRUCE BENNETT

*Executive Sports Editor, Duluth (Minn.) Herald and News Tribune
Director, Football Writers' Association of America*

Michigan and Ohio State have dominated Big Ten football for so long that some now call the conference the Big Two and Little Eight, and the contention is not without merit.

The perennial powerhouses have shared the championship in each of the past three seasons and the only time they haven't been one-two, or two-one, the past seven years was when Northwestern squeezed into second place in 1971 and Ohio State dropped into a tie for third.

With the arrival of each new season there arises hope in the breasts of several challengers, but no team has been able to oust the Wolverines or Buckeyes from their lofty perches.

THROUGH IT ALL, ONE TRUTH HAS SURFACED: If there is to be a breakthrough, the team which accomplishes it will have to build itself up to the strength of the terrific twosome, for there seems no weakening of the might of either. Michigan's Bo Schembechler and Ohio State's Woody Hayes continue to tap the talent trough of blue-chippers and the regular season-ending game between their teams has come to be a collegiate classic.

If any team harbors a valid hope of elbowing one or both of the top two from the championship rung of the ladder this year, it could be Michigan State, a fast finisher last year which wound up just a half-game behind the co-champions.

Says coach Denny Stolz: "We feel we're going to be a Big Ten contender.

"We base this judgment on the number of kids we'll have back, the number of regulars returning and the outstanding players we'll have in the skilled areas.

"IT'S THE first time since I've been head coach (three years) that we could say that."

Stolz' Spartans, of course, recorded an epic upset last fall, the 16-13 tumbling of Ohio State.

As executive sports editor of the Duluth Herald and News-Tribune, Bruce Bennett writes a daily column and heads a seven-man sports department.

A native of Michigan's upper peninsula, he holds a bachelors degree in journalism from the University of Michigan.

Prior to joining the Duluth newspapers in 1959, he was a general assignment reporter for the Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Evening News and the El Paso (Texas) Herald Post.

He covers Minnesota Vikings and Gophers football, but his assignments have included a wide range—ice hockey, basketball, baseball, curling, ski jumping and golf.

Behind Michigan State, Wisconsin and Purdue carry menacing looks, with Illinois rated as having an outside chance of challenge.

But all Midwest football is not the Big Ten. Notre Dame has a new coach and enough veterans returning from its Orange Bowl champions to make things interesting coast to coast. And don't overlook Cincinnati, where Tony Mason has turned around the Bearcats' fortunes in two years.

In the Mid-American Conference, where Miami (O.) has been a Michigan and Ohio State wrapped into one for some time, there's a new look—nine teams instead of six, with a tenth to be added next year. Kent State and Bowling Green appear to be the mightiest challengers to Miami, which is gunning for its third successive conference championship.

There will be many new faces in the Ohio State lineup this fall after graduation took 24 seniors, including 13 starters. Of the 40 lettermen who return, the strength appears to be in the offense where all four backfield starters are back—quarterback Cornelius Greene; tailback Archie Griffin, the 1974 Heisman Trophy winner; Brian Baschnagel and Pete Johnson.

The offensive line must undergo considerable change, as only tackle Scott Dannelley and guard Ted Smith are back. The defensive unit must be completely rebuilt; with only three regulars from a year ago—tackle Nick Buonamaci, linebacker Ken Kuhn and safety Tim Fox. The kicking game will be in good hands with Tom Skladany, the nation's leading punter as a sophomore with an average of 45.6 per kick, and placekicker Tom Klaban, SOFT PEDALING—Heisman winner Archie Griffin of Ohio State steps lightly with one shoe on and one off to evade Michigan State tacklers Greg Schaum (95), Kim Roweckamp (43) and Mike Duda (91) in Spartans' stunning 16-13 upset of the Buckeyes.

PICK A PARTNER and swing him 'round—or knock him down, depending on the dance. Ohio QB Rick Bevely hands off to back Frank Bohanan with the Bobcat line providing picture-perfect blocking. OU missed a perfect ending in 19-16 loss to Toledo.

whose four field goals made him the hero of the 12-10 Michigan win.

The search for new starters will be centered on last year's reserves, but Hayes has no hesitation to play freshmen, although he prefers to bring them along slowly as the season progresses. There were 13 freshmen on Ohio State's 60-man Rose Bowl roster last year.

Since Schembechler took over at Michigan in 1969, the Wolverines have posted the finest regular season record in the nation: 58 victories, five losses and one tie. Credit for that lies chiefly with their defense—first among all major colleges in overall scoring defense, a paltry yield of just 7.8 points per game, and high ranked in other defensive categories.

THERE APPEARS TO BE NO LESSENING of this kind of effectiveness this year. In fact, Michigan could have one of its finest defensive units ever despite the loss of all-America safety Dave Brown and all-Big Ten linebacker Steve Strinko. Middle guard Tim Davis and tackle Jeff Perlinger anchor the front five and behind them are linebackers Calvin O'Neal and Dave Devich.

Offensively, the question is who'll be Michigan's quarterback. Mark Elzinga, strong-armed 198-pounder who backed up Dennis Franklin last year, gets first call, and he'll have a stable of fast backs led by Gordon Bell and Rob Lytle. Up front Jim Smith is one of Michigan's best tight ends ever, and Steve King potentially one of the nation's top tackles.

Michigan State's biggest obstacle may be its schedule. "I don't think anyone ever played a schedule that starts off like our first five games," said Stolz. "Four of these teams played in bowl games. Collectively they had a record of 49-7-2 last season. All outranked us in both polls." The "Fantastic Five" are Ohio State, Miami of Ohio, North Carolina State, Notre Dame and Michigan. If the Spartans get past these teams with any semblance of success, the remaining six conference games may be a breeze.

STOLZ' TEAM WAS 6-1-1 IN THE BIG TEN last year and 7-3-1 overall. Heading the galaxy of returnees will be senior quarterback Charlie Baggett, who his coach feels is the best in the country at his position. Also in camp are substantial defensive linemen Otto Smith and Greg Schaum, defensive back Tom Graves and fullback Levi Jackson, hero of the Ohio State upset.

Wisconsin will have to replace 12 starters from a team which finished strong with three consecutive victories to wind up 7-4 (including 5-2 in the Big Ten). Among the missing is talented quarterback Gregg Bohlig, but any team that has tailback Billy Marek on it has to be a threat. Marek had an incredible final three games last fall in which he rushed for 206, 230 and 304 yards, respectively, and scored 13 touchdowns!

Tackle Dennis Lick heads up Coach John Jardine's offensive line. Defensively the Badgers return a solid nucleus of six starters.

PURDUE HAS SEVEN REGULARS RETURNING on offense, including its most experienced line in years and most of its starting backfield—junior quarterback Mark Vitali, junior tailback Scott Dierking and sophomore flankers Reggie Arnold and Paul Berry—plus part-time fullback starter Mike Pruitt.

The Boilermakers' defense is bulwarked by Ken Novak, who at 6-7 and 274 pounds has been menacing opposing quarterbacks for two seasons.

Illinois had its first winning season (6-4-1) in nine years in 1974 and indications are that more victories could be in store this fall. Seven starters return to coach Bob Blackman's offense and the Illini retain end Dean March and tackle John DiFelicantonio on defense. Also back are the team's top ball carriers, tailbacks Jim Phillips and Tracy Campbell.

Junior placekicking specialist Dan Beaver and punter Phil Verneisel put the kicking game in good shape. If Blackman can find a quarterback, the Illini fortunes could indeed look up.

CAL STOLL'S THREE SEASONS AT MINNESOTA have produced a yoyo effect—4-7, 7-4 and 4-7, and the latest tailspin is easily traceable: The Gophers were last in both total offense and total defense in the Big Ten in 1974. To bounce back, Minnesota must find more depth or durability at quarterback, where Tony Dungy returns for his junior year, and someone to replace the mercurial Rick Upchurch at tailback. On defense, Keith Simons is all-America timber at tackle and Doug Beaudoin a sterling free safety.

Iowa went from winless in 1973 to 3-8 in Bob Commings' first year as coach last fall and may continue to show improvement. The offense has eight returning starters and Commings could look for immediate defensive help from a banner crop of freshmen to augment seven starters there. Quarterback is uncertain but the Hawkeyes have a bevy of ball carriers—Jim Jensen, Rod Wellington, Bob Holmes, Mark Fetter and Ed Donovan.

Johnny Pont must find a successor to quarterback Mitch Anderson, a three year starter, at Northwestern, but has principal ground-gainer Jim Pooler, tailback, and the Big Ten's top pass receiver, Scott Yelvington (31 catches) returning. After quarterback, defense is the Wildcats' major concern.

After two frustrating years, 2-9 and 1-10, coach Lee Corso may be ready to turn things around at Indiana. Corso leaned heavily on freshmen and sophomores last year and is hoping to reap the benefits of their experience. Quarterback Terry Jones, the Big Ten's top passer a year ago as a sophomore, and classmate Courtney Snyder, who was an all-Big Ten running back along with Griffin and Marek, are the Hoosiers' biggest hopes.

AS USUAL, THE SECTOR'S TOP INDEPENDENT—if not the nation's—will be Notre Dame. Dan Devine, one of the nation's leading college coaches at Arizona State and Missouri before a four-year sojourn in the pros, succeeds Ara Parseghian at the helm of the Irish. Devine moves from the shadow of Vince Lombardi at Green Bay to the shadows of Rockne, Leahy and Parseghian at South Bend, but maintains, "If I spend my time worrying about trying to match their records I wouldn't have time to apply my own work."

And Devine has plenty of it to do. His first job is to find a successor to three-year starter Tom Clements at quarterback. The offense must be entirely rebuilt and five defensive regulars replaced.

Although all three starting backs have departed, the ranks have not been depleted as such as Art Best, Mark McLane and Tom Parise return. Up front, senior guard Al Wujciak is the lone regular returning on offense. Defensive end Steve Niehaus may be playing at defensive tackle this fall. Linebackers Tom Eastman and Marv Russell return as do deep backs Randy Payne, John Dubenetzky and Randy Harrison. Devine was banking heavily on finding a lot of answers during spring and preseason drills.

CINCINNATI WON FOUR OF ITS LAST FIVE to finish 7-4 last year and Mason has 42 of 49 lettermen back. Quarterback Henry Miller, who passed for six touchdowns and scored nine others himself, returns to an offense which will also feature fullback Tom Liggins. On defense, Tom Marvaso, strong safety, and Clarence Sanders, linebacker, bulwark that unit.

Dayton, 11th in the nation last year in passing offense, will be going to the airways again as coach Ron Marciniak hopes to improve upon a 3-8

CHLOROFORMED—Miami (O.) linebacker Chuck Varner (right center) should have anesthetized Toledo fullback Kurt Olman before his touchdown drive, but Varner's spirits soared as the Redskins found the right formula for a 38-22 result.

"GUESS WHO?"—Indian split end Trent Smock is quizzed by Michigan all-America David Brown. Smock had no trouble identifying Hoosier passes, leading the Big Ten in TD catches, but the Wolverines solved Indiana's defense for a 21-7 decision.

record. Junior Bill Nauman, a transfer from Purdue, will be throwing to Jim Snow and Kelwin Kirk. Linebacker Ron Dundala heads up the defense.

Marshall has a new coach, Frank Ellwood, and a new look. There are 33 lettermen back from last year's 1-10 club, including offensive guard Jesse Smith, and split end Fuzzy Filliez, but the Thundering Herd is looking for a quarterback and depth at several positions.

In the Mid-American, Miami takes a 23-game string in quest of its third successive unbeaten season. The Redskins were 10-0-1 last year, including a Tangerine Bowl victory over Georgia, and ranked tenth in the country.

Coach Dick Crum begins his second year on the job with 29 lettermen returning, including the first string backfield of quarterback Sherman Smith and running backs Randy Walker and Rob Carpenter.

Defensively, the Redskins return starting tackles Jim Feucht and Jeff Kelly, linebacker Bill Wiggins and deep backs Pete Rome and Ron Zook. Still, Crum has enough holes to fill to make it a challenge, especially with games at Michigan State and Purdue early in the season.

Recovering from severe graduation wipe outs at linebacker and in the offensive line complicates coach Don Nehlen's attempts to match last year's 6-4-1 record at Bowling Green. But the Falcons surprised a lot of people last year when they used sophomore tailback Dave Preston and the quarterbacking of freshman Mark Miller to wind up with a three-game winning streak. Both return, but Nehlen will have to shore up the defense.

At Kent State new coach Denny Fitzgerald turns to quarterback Greg Kodal and running backs Dan Watkins and Mike Mauer to generate an attack. He must find some linebackers but the entire defensive line returns.

DOWN LOOKS LIKE UP—Bowling Green tailback Dave Preston is beginning to believe the world is upside down. The nation's fifth-leading rusher and scorer spent more time on the turf than upright as Ohio earned a 33-22 verdict.

Toledo's hopes rest with quarterback Gene Swick, but coach Jack Murphy must find some pass receivers for him and some ball carriers to take the pressure off his passing. Ohio University has a solid offensive line, but needs a quarterback and players to plug some defensive gaps while all-MAC tackle Ed Madison blocks for principal rusher Dave Houseton.

Western Michigan was winless in the MAC last year and has a new coach, Elliot Uzelac. Tailback Dan Matthews and wide receiver Ted Forrest are the Broncos' chief offensive weapons.

Joining the MAC are Division II champion Central Michigan, Ball State and Northern Illinois, while Eastern Michigan comes in next year.

Central's Chippewas go in minus 17 players who helped them to their greatest season ever: 12-1, capped by a victory in the Camellia Bowl for national honors. Featured among coach Roy Kramer's returnees are game-breaking runners Dick Dunham and Walt (Smoke) Hodges. Center Wes Gamble anchors the offensive line and Jim Jones is a superb defensive back.

Ball State's Dave McClain has 26 lettermen back for his team's step up to major college classification, including senior cornerback Shafer Suggs, who had eight interceptions last year, and junior quarterback Art Yaroeh. Northern Illinois utilized 1974 for rebuilding and offers defensive tackle Dave Meyers as its anchorman.

Eastern Michigan served notice on its future MAC leaguemates when it hopped Toledo 28-12 in the season's finale a year ago. Speedster Clarence Chapman and defensive end Brian Karol are top returnees.

Allegheny, which finished strong to share the PAC title with John Carroll last season, is expected to gain sole possession this year.

The Gators show a strong offense with Tibor (the hustling Hungarian) Solymosi, No. 2 rusher in the conference last season, and running mate Mark Matlack returning. And either of two sophomore quarterbacks—Frank Civitarese or Jim Schaeffer—is expected to provide adequate passing operating behind a fine offensive line anchored by two-time all-PAC tackle Chuck Slater.

Carroll, meanwhile, faces a tough rebuilding job after graduating much of its offense, including Tim Barrett, three times a 1,000-yard rusher.

Bethany will be looking for a running threat to go with its passing combination of quarterback Steve Sekelik and tight end Phil Pest.

Thiel is expected to pose a tough defense led by Paul Goodwill, the PAC's defensive Player of the Year two straight seasons. Hiram also is expected to show a tough defense anchored by all-PAC linebacker Ken Levels.

Defending MIAC co-champion St. John's returns with 12 regulars, including all-conference selections John Herhenhoff and Todd Watam, and will again be a strong contender for Minnesota grid honors. The Johnnies have a .750 winning percentage during the 22-year coaching tenure of John Gagliardi.

Concordia, the other co-champ, lost heavily to graduation, especially offensively with conference MVP Randy Guse gone. Defense will be the key in 1975 if the Cobbers are to repeat at the top.

UM Duluth, a half-game behind the leaders, lost just two players to graduation. Back will be Terry Egerdahl, one of the best offensive backs in the league.

Hamline and St. Thomas were both hurt by injuries last season. The Tommies should be in contention this time around, while the Pipers have a strong defense but need more offense. Gustavus Adolphus has an outstanding quarterback in Mark Pfundstein, and will move up as the defense improves.

*Defeated Baldwin-Wallace for title.

†Did not compete for title.

If there is a clear-cut favorite in the Ohio Conference championship race, that team has kept itself well-camouflaged to preseason prognosticators.

Both Wittenberg, defending a two-year reign of the OAC throne, and Baldwin-Wallace, which fell to the Tigers in last year's title game, lost heavily at graduation time last spring.

Wittenberg's chief losses were to its offensive platoon where its all-conference rushing attack departs. The Tigers' traditionally tough defense, with most of the key performers back, should lead them into a three-way battle for the Blue Division crown with rushing powerhouse Mount Union (led by league champ Mark Choppa), and defensively-sound Capital.

Baldwin-Wallace, Otterbein and Marietta all have key personnel to replace, but the trio appear to have more overall depth than the rest of the teams in the Red Division. Heidelberg and Muskingum, with fine offensive attacks but weak defensively, promise to make the race interesting.

Ohio Northern will hope to improve its 2-7 record while preparing to jump into the 1976 championship race. Kenyon and Oberlin, also not participating in the OAC championship playoff, will again exhibit exciting wide-open offensive play. Kenyon had the OAC's best passing attack in 1974.

It looks as if the rest of the Indiana Collegiate Conference will be chasing Butler again this year. The Bulldogs zipped through the 1974 league campaign undefeated, and this trip they're equipped with eight returning starters, including league MVP Bill Lynch at quarterback, the ICC's top offensive lineman. Dave Swihart, leading receiver Dave Oliver and rusher Harry Muta.

The Bulldogs' defense drops six starters, and cornerback Roger Dodson will be counted on to shore up probably the only problem in the battle plan.

Six returning all-conference players, including Indiana's leading scorer, Virgil Bufford, make Evansville promising again. Helping Bufford will be tackle Randy Kranwetter and guard Paul Swiz. Returnees such as back Charlie Uhde will defend the Aces' status as the top defensive team.

DePauw returns 11 starters including option quarterback Sam Juarascio. All-time DPU rushing leader Bart Simpson is gone, but fullback Jim Borling and halfback Gerald Richardson should pick up the slack.

Indiana Central faces a rebuilding job on its defensive unit, but league-leading rusher Dick Malley will ignite an explosive offensive attack.

Valparaiso won't have to look for a quarterback this year with lanky Chuck Ortmann returning. Wabash returns its entire starting backfield for new coach Frank Navarro, including three-time regular QB Dave Cogdill. St. Joseph has the passing combo of Jeff Taylor to Larry Olewinski.

Champion Michigan Tech marched through the 1974 campaign without a loss and established itself as a consensus favorite for 1975. Rich in veterans, the Huskies retain junior runningback Jim VanWagner, who rushed for 1,453 yards, and all-NIC picks Kurt Anderson (LB) and Tom VanWagner (OG).

St. Cloud State eyes the summit this fall as wide receiver John Kimbrough headlines the potent Huskie offense. Winona State made a run for the title last year and plans a more determined bid this fall, led by quarterback Rick Ernst.

Bullish linebacker Dick Sagehorn anchors a firm Moorhead State defense. Minnesota-Morris' hopes rest on the passing arm of QB Chuck Senkyr.

Defending co-champ Millikin lost only seven starters from last season's squad and figures to be a solid favorite to repeat in the 1975 CCIW title chase. But vastly improved Carroll, boasting the league's top signal-caller in junior Steve Thompson, and perennial power Carthage, featuring outstanding running back Jim Jodat, should offer strong challenges to the Big Blue.

League coaches will also be keeping a wary eye on youthful Wheaton, which had only four seniors on its 60-man roster last year.

Illinois Wesleyan was hit hard by graduation losses, but still has talent in reserve. Augustana, featuring the NCAA's third leading Division III rusher in junior Joe Thompson, could also move into contention.

North Park, Elmhurst and North Central will all be seeking to improve.

Lawrence and Ripon, which tied for second in 1974, are expected to provide the sternest test for Coe in its bid to repeat as conference champion.

Coe loses all-America guard Dan Schmitt, who paced Coe to two league titles. Injuries hampered a contending Ripon team last fall. Lawrence became a challenger with a youthful club.

Three other teams also rank as possibilities to oust the top trio. They are Knox, which was plagued with various problems last fall; Carleton, which will be led by Kevin Birkholz, a split end and safety who was the only player to earn both all-conference offensive and defensive honors last fall; and Cornell, which will feature a strong defense led by linebacker George Corum.

Midwest Divisions II-III Independents

By BILL KREIFELDT, Sports Information Director, Wayne State University

There'll be a scramble to succeed Division II champion Central Michigan, now in Division I, in District 4 this fall, and independent contenders are many.

Foremost is Youngstown State, 8-1 with three sophs and a freshman in the Penguin backfield last year. A dozen other starters, including all-America safety Don Calloway, return to Youngstown.

Wayne State rose to 7-3 and returns 17 starters, headed by quarterback Ed Skowneski and Division II interception leader Terry Ruskin, now a soph.

Western Illinois will depend on defense to continue winning ways. Indiana State turns all-America tailback Vincent Allen loose against six Division I foes. Akron also faces a tough schedule while rebuilding on defense.

In Division III, Illinois Benedictine may forsake its explosive offense for stronger defense, and Ashland looks for rusher Morris Irby to lead the way.

Streaking Sooners Seek Sole Claim As Nation's Best; Tulsa MVC Pick

By BUCK TURNBULL

*Sports Writer, The Des Moines Register
Director, Football Writers' Association of America*

Remember the old gag about the Big Eight Conference consisting of Oklahoma and the Seven Dwarfs?

Well, not only is it starting to get that way again within the conference, but now we may be heading into a year of Oklahoma and the 132 dwarfs—meaning all the other major teams in the country.

The Sooners are, in a word, loaded. They seem certain to begin the season No. 1 in both national wire service polls, only one of which they topped at the finish of last season after an 11-0 cakewalk.

COLLEGE COACHES WHO RANK THE TEAMS for United Press International refused to recognize them because of their probationary status, so they could stake a claim to only half the national championship, the one voted by sportswriters and sportscasters for the Associated Press.

But the days of probation are over, dating back to a transcript case involving reserve quarterback Kerry Jackson, except for the last of the financial blows.

Oklahoma cannot appear in any television games during the upcoming regular season, but otherwise, the NCAA penalty was to expire as of August, 1975. By conservative estimate, Big Eight schools lost $2 million while Oklahoma had to stay home from bowls and off the tube for two years.

This hasn't stopped coach Barry Switzer's Sooners from bowling over the opposition, however, and look at the streaks they currently have in progress: 29 games without a loss, 20 consecutive victories, and a 22-game unbeaten mark for Switzer, who has yet to lose in two years as a head coach at Oklahoma.

THE ONLY blemish was a 7-7 tie with Southern California in 1973.

So much for history. The trouble, especially for anyone on Oklahoma's sched-

Buck Turnbull is approaching his silver anniversary at the Des Moines Register, with 23 years of service on the sports staff to his credit.

He has covered football in the midlands since his days on the student newspaper at the University of Iowa shortly after World War II.

After graduating from Iowa in 1951, Turnbull spent a year as sports editor in Winona, Minnesota, before joining the Register.

Buck is one of only four newsmen who have made all of the pre-season football tours with the Big Eight Skywriters since they were instituted in 1963.

GOT HIS NUMBER—That is about all Minnesota manages to get from Nebraska's Tony Davis as he breaks a tackle in the Cornhuskers' 54-0 whitewash. David Humm and a referee observe to make sure the Gophers don't try anything underhanded.

ule, is that those streaks are likely to get a lot longer.

Superstar Joe Washington returns to run the ball, Steve Davis comes back to direct the almost unstoppable wishbone attack, Tinker Owens is still around to catch a rare pass or two, and the Selmon brothers, Dewey and LeRoy, will be their old intimidating selves in the defensive line.

When you have that kind of a nucleus, what more do you need? Walk-ons from the student body could fill the holes and make the team a title contender, but Oklahoma, of course, has much more than that.

Not even always-tough Nebraska figures to slow the Sooner stampede toward a trip to the Orange Bowl, which begins a new tieup with the Big Eight champion this year.

In the Missouri Valley, now down to six football-playing members with North Texas gone, a similar one-sided show seems in the offing because of another Oklahoma team's obvious superiority.

Tulsa rolled to its second straight Valley title under coach F. A. Dry in 1974, winning all six conference games in an 8-3 year, and appears to be just as awesome on that level as the Sooners are in the Big Eight.

The Golden Hurricane has six all-league players returning, led by the passing combination of quarterback Jeb Blount and split end Steve Largent.

Two new coaches check into the Big Eight, Bud Moore replacing Don Fambrough at Kansas and Ellis Rainsberger taking over for Vince Gibson at Kansas State. The popular Gibson stayed in this territory, however, moving to Louisville of the Missouri Valley to succeed T. W. Alley.

Things are not so solid at Oklahoma that there are no problem areas at all. The biggest is in the offensive line with the loss of four starters, but the defense also was shorn of linebacker Rod Shoate, a three-time all-America, and star defensive back Randy Hughes.

"Probably the most important thing for us will be to avoid injuries," says Switzer. "We'll be a good team if we can do that. But if we lose somebody like Joe Washington or Steve Davis we'd be in trouble.

"PART OF THE REASON FOR OUR SUCCESS the last two years was the fact that we didn't lose any super players with injury. I'm just knocking on wood. The Big Eight Conference is still the nation's best and you'd better be physically able each Saturday or forget it."

Switzer calls Washington the greatest running back in America, Archie Griffin of Ohio State notwithstanding, and the important thing about Joe is his versatility. He's averaged 6.8 yards for every carry, returns punts and kickoffs, catches passes — and is the best blocker in the backfield.

"There is no doubt that Oklahoma will be the favorite again," says Nebraska's Tom Osborne, "but we certainly plan on challenging the Sooners."

NEBRASKA, WHICH HAS WON six straight bowl games to tie a record, must do it with a new quarterback because the David Humm era is over. He left a slug of passing records—and a host of potential successors.

When Humm faltered in the Sugar Bowl against Florida, it was Terry Luck who came off the bench and spurred the Huskies to a 13-10 victory.

Luck is back, but not necessarily the first choice to take over, since Vince Ferragamo and Randy Garcia are among a batch of other candidates with the talent-rich Huskers. Ferragamo was a two-year starter at California before transferring and sitting out last season, and Garcia is an extremely promising sophomore.

So whatever develops from this battle, the Cornhuskers doubtless will launch another formidable attack, featuring the running of fullback Tony Davis and I-backs Monte Anthony and John O'Leary, along with the work up front of all-America center Rik Bonness.

Defensively, Nebraska looks for one of its strongest lines in recent years to carry on the Black Shirt tradition with the likes of Bob Martin, Ron Pruitt and John Lee on hand again. Linebacking replacements are needed.

Missouri rose up to tie Nebraska for second place last year, both finishing 5-2 in the league, but it will be equally surprising if Al Onofrio's Tigers do as well again. Only nine of the 22 starters return.

But two of the best are among them—running back Tony Galbreath, the top rusher and scorer, and strong-armed quarterback Steve Pisarkiewicz.

The defensive line and linebackers were wiped out by graduation, though, and a killer schedule includes Alabama and Michigan.

Laboring in the shadow of Oklahoma's winning streak makes it difficult for Oklahoma State to get much recognition, but the Cowpokes have been quietly going about the business of putting together three straight winning seasons. A fourth one would be the first time that's happened in 35 years.

Quarterback Charlie Weatherbie, halfbacks Skip Taylor and Terry Miller and center Gary Chlouber lead the offense, while the defense will be anchored by all-conference tackle Phillip Dokes.

CLICKING HIS HEELS—Quarterback Greg Haug of UMo. Rolla had reason to kick up his heels, celebrating the Miners' 20-7 victory against Northeast Missouri State. Mark Uthlaut (87) tries to stay clear of Haug's flailing feet.

With four non-league games at home to start the season, Oklahoma State may have a perfect situation to gather steam for a run at the leaders.

Another team that could be on the upswing is Colorado, where Bill Mallory welcomes back nine offensive starters and seven on defense.

David Williams returns at quarterback, along with dangerous tailback Billy Waddy and the team's top scorer, fullback Terry Kunz. Speedy veteran Dave Logan has been switched from wingback to split end.

Defense is Colorado's tender spot. In an effort to plug the gaps Mallory combed the junior college ranks and brought in 10 transfers last spring, eight of whom were linebackers.

IF EARLE BRUCE COULD FIND A WAY to win the close ones at Iowa State, his two-year mark would be considerably better than 8-14.

Last year's tough luck for the Cyclones included the loss of quarterback Buddy Hardeman in the second game with a knee injury. He's healthy again and most of the offensive line returns, but Mike Strachan's departure leaves a big void at running back.

Iowa State's defense faces a major retooling job and got a hefty boost from Tampa's defunct program. Bruce formerly coached at Tampa, so when that school dropped football last spring he latched on to several top players, including linebacker Greg Pittman and defensive end Otis Rodgers.

At Kansas State, Rainsberger's problems are just the opposite. He inherits seven defensive starters, plus a fine stable of running backs, but quarterback Steve Grogan departed and so did most of the offensive linemen.

Sophomores Arthur Bailey, Joe Hatcher and Larry Crawford will duel for the Wildeat quarterback spot.

KANSAS TOOK A NOSEDIVE into a tie for the Big Eight cellar with K-State by losing its last six games—even more astonishing since the Jayhawks were 13th-ranked before Nebraska started their plunge in a 56-0 rout.

Moore will have plenty of experienced players at Kansas, which graduated only 13 of its top 44. Key returnees are quarterback Scott McMichael, swift tailback Laverne Smith and all-conference defensive back Kurt Knoff.

In the Missouri Valley, there is no reason to think Tulsa's domination won't continue with Blount throwing, Largent catching, Greg Fairchild and Wes Hamilton clearing things out in the offensive line, and linebacker Byron Franklin and cornerback Buddy Tate returning on defense.

Those six were all-conference in 1974, with Blount the Valley's offensive player of the year. He passed for 1,831 yards, Largent's 52 catches for 844 yards and 14 touchdowns ranked him tenth in the nation.

TULSA'S MOST SERIOUS CHALLENGE probably will come from West Texas State, so Valley fans should mark September 20 as a red-letter day. That's the date of an early-season meeting between the two at Canyon, Texas.

Junior quarterback Tully Blanchard again will pilot coach Gene Mayfield's wishbone assault at West Texas, and he has a wealth of running backs to go with him, plus all-conference tackle Jeff Lloyd. An experienced and rugged defense revolves around tackle Floyd Jones, another all-leaguer.

Walter Peacock is back for his senior year at Louisville, and that's good news for Gibson as he bows in with the Cardinals. Peacock, a shifty running back, was the Valley's player of the year in 1973.

The Valley's darkhorse is New Mexico State, a young squad last year except for powerful tailback Jim Germany, the only major graduation loss.

Coach Jim Bradley welcomes back nine starters on offense, spearheaded by quarterback Bill Bowerman and exceptional guards Ralph Jackson and Carl Dean, Jim Pratt and Tony Middleton are the defensive leaders.

Drake won only three games last fall, and it's no secret where the problem lies. The defense has to be tightened.

Offensively, things are in good shape with most of the line returning, along with quarterback Jeff Martin and running back Jim Herndon. Another plus for the Bulldogs is placekicker Todd Gaffney.

At Wichita State, you'll need a program to sort out all the new hands, because coach Jim Wright signed 17 junior college transfers to beef up the Shockers after last year's dismal 1-9-1 showing.

The term will regroup around quarterback Sam Akins, who passed for over 1,400 yards as a sophomore, and linebacker Dave Warren.

Southern Illinois doesn't enter Valley play until 1977, giving coach Doug Weaver time to get the Salukis turned around from last fall's 2-9 tailspin. He has some promising runners for his veer offense in sophomores Hugh Fletcher and Vic Major, junior Lawrence Boy and senior Andre Herrera.

The North Central Conference will be hard-pressed to repeat 1974's blanket finish with tri-champions and a fourth only a few seconds away, but nearly every NCC team expects to be stronger in 1975. The youthful teams have matured and the conference could be a showcase of national contenders.

South Dakota must head the list along with North Dakota. The Coyotes return 18 starters including explosive quarterback Mark Jenkins.

UND's Sioux have 31 lettermen on hand, including nine starters off the offensive unit which produced the best rushing machine in NCC history. Among them are all-league running backs Dale Kasowski and Bill Duetsch. Duetsch smashed the NCC's single season rushing record with 879 yards in seven games.

North Dakota State returns nearly its entire offense unit and several key performers from the league's best defense. With good replacements, the Bison could contend for their 11th crown in the last 12 years.

South Dakota State lost heavily in the lines but the Jacks are still explosive with quarterback Bill Mast and slotback Dick Weikert. Another nationally-ranked QB, Bill Salmon, leads Northern Iowa's first division hopes.

Mankato State looks for a quarterback to augment a solid offensive line and ground attack led by Mike Curry. Augustana rates the NCC darkhorse nod with nearly everyone but quarterback Dave Zelinsky in camp. Morningside returns 20 starters from a team that has been winless the past two seasons.

Denied a share of the MIAA football crown in the final minute of the last game of the season, Southwest Missouri could have the most formidable claim on this year's crown. The Bears come off a 4-2 conference campaign with virtually all their personnel at the key positions intact, including tailback Greg Lawson, the league's top scorer and leading rusher in 1974.

Safety Randy Baehr, the MIAA's most valuable last season, heads a contingent of 16 experienced defensive players returning to NW Missouri's defending championship team. Wide receiver Mark Christian returns on offense.

SE Missouri builds around quarterback Rick Wieser, but looks for receiver replacements. Linebackers Al Council and Gary Briley anchor the defense.

First year coach Ron Taylor inherits 36 lettermen at NE Missouri. Missouri-Rolla returns the MIAA's top passer in Greg Haug but lost two top runners. Central Missouri lacks a quarterback but has golden-toed Bill Mullis, a 42.3 punter as a soph. Lincoln looks for a consistent ground attack.

Baylor's '74 Title Run Unexpected, But SWC Foes Aware Of '75 Bears

By BOB GALT

*Assistant Sports Editor, Dallas Times Herald
Director, Football Writers' Association of America*

Last year at this time you had to turn the page to find mention of the Baylor Bears in the Southwest Conference, and then you needed only a couple of seconds to read that "Hapless" was still their first name.

This year finds them being introduced as the "Amazing Baylor Bears." What Baylor did in 1974 was turn the SWC on its ear. The Bears, an 0-7 accident the season before in league play, won their first championship in 50 years. They were 6-1 where it counted, 8-3 overall, and Bear-backers were so delirious it didn't bother them that their golden boys got whipped by Penn State in the Cotton Bowl.

COACH GRANT TEAFF, DEPICTED BY EVERY cartoonist in the Southwest as Moses, won a ballbag full of Coach-of-the-Year awards. And Baylor won the hearts of football fans across the land.

Texas coach Darrell Royal sounded the cry for fans to jump on the Baylor bandwagon following his team's 34-24 loss to the Bears. The defeat spoiled Texas' bid for a seventh straight SWC crown.

For many SWC observers, Baylor's victory was a sign that the league might be on the verge of returning to "the good ole days" when it was regarded as one of the most unpredictable conferences in the land.

During one 10-year stretch (1948-57), every team save Baylor won at least one championship.

Assistant sports editor Bob Galt is in his 19th year with The Dallas Times Herald.

Since he has spent the last 12 of those years covering the Southwest Athletic Conference, one has to assume that the folks in that venerable group, who sometimes refer to Galt as "chickenfry," know how he picked up that unique nickname.

In addition to his current position as a director in the Football Writers' Association of America, the Dallas writer has twice served on the all-America football selection committee.

Galt is also a past president of the Texas Sports Writers Association.

When Baylor scored last year, it marked only the second time in 16 seasons that a state school had not won. If one of the SWC's church or private schools is to find success this year, it will have to be Baylor's Bears again.

Teaff has his Baylor players taking a realistic approach to the season. No one took them seriously until the dust had settled last year, but the Bears won't be able to slip up on anyone this time.

Teaff has done an outstanding recruiting job in three years at the Waco school. Many believe he will be bringing in the best crop of freshmen this fall of any school in the league. He can add them to 42 returning lettermen, including seven offensive and six defensive starters from '74.

It isn't difficult to spot Teaff's trouble spots. Fullback Pat McNeil is the only member of the starting backfield returning. Defensively, Baylor lost both of its linebackers to graduation.

Mark Jackson got in 113 minutes of playing time last year as the reserve quarterback, so that spot isn't being turned over to a green rookie. And half of the linebacker worry has been solved. Tim Black, all-state at that position in high school, has been moved from end to sub for all-conference linebacker Derrel Luce.

THE TEAM BAYLOR WILL HAVE TO BEAT if it is to repeat is the team it couldn't stay on the field with last year—Texas A&M.

Emory Bellard's Aggies were loaded in '74 but somehow managed to error themselves into two conference losses and an 8-3 season. A&M appeared to be in a class by itself when it gave Baylor a 20-0 slap.

A&M operated last year with the Wishbone. It will still be the basic offense in '75, but the "I" has been added to spice the attack. A whopping 10 starters return to that offense.

Defense definitely was A&M's strong point last time out, second best in the land behind Notre Dame. The heart of that defense is back with six starters headed by all-America cornerback Pat Thomas and linebackers Ed Simonini and Garth Ten Napel.

TEXAS CAN'T BE OVERLOOKED in the '75 picture. The Steers are coming off a "down" year for them, but with eight offensive starters returning, it would surprise no one in SWC land to see Royal crank up his Wishbone for another championship. Awesome fullback Earl Campbell, freshman of the year last season, should be the headline-grabber for the team. Marty Akins will be the starting quarterback for the third year.

If there are any problems Texas can't overcome, they are likely to be found on defense. Six starters are back, but gone is all-America tackle Doug English and two linebackers. Royal must also rebuild his secondary.

PIGGY-BACK RAIDERS—A trio of Texas Tech tacklers are after Texas Christian quarterback Lee Cook, but Tom Dyer (58) seems more hindered than helped by his mates. Ecomet Burley (74) moves in for the kill as the Red Raiders downed TCU, 28-0.

"I OBJECT, YOUR HONOR!"—McNeese State defensive end Greg Griffin tries to make a point with the man in charge. Lamar players were content to watch the discussion and make points elsewhere as they upended McNeese, 17-3.

The surprise team in the conference could be Texas Tech. Steve Sloan, boy wonder of the Southeastern Conference, was hired away from Vanderbilt when Jim Carlen departed for South Carolina.

Every new coach should be so lucky. The Tech program is on solid ground, and there is much talent to be found on the Red Raider squad. Seven offensive and five defensive regulars are back from a team that was 6-4-1 in '74 and tied Sloan's Vanderbilt team in the Peach Bowl.

Larry Isaac, Cliff Hoskins and Rufus Myers are highly-regarded running backs, and tackle Ecomet Burley has been one of the league's best defensive players for two seasons. In the area of problems, Sloan must come up with a new receiving corps, along with a couple of linebackers.

THERE IS NO QUESTIONING the firepower of Dave Smith's SMU team. He owns the conference's premiere offensive line, a unit fronted by all-SWC players Henry Sheppard and Guy Thomas. They do most of the dirty work for halfback Wayne Morris and waterbug quarterback Ricky Wesson, a couple of players capable of going all the way with an inch of daylight.

But what are the Mustangs going to do on defense? There wasn't a hint during spring practice that the defenders will be able to provide the offense with first-rate support.

At Arkansas, Frank Broyles' Hogs acted like they were headed for the national title last year when they opened with a 22-7 upset of Southern Cal. But it was downhill the rest of the way.

MOST OF THE HOG PROBLEMS have centered around an inconsistent offense. Broyles has changed his attack five times in the last three seasons. Last year's Wishbone has been replaced by the Veer, and Broyles has hired three new offensive assistants. Nine starters return to work the attack.

Ike Forte is the top running threat, taking handoffs from one of three quarterbacks with starting experience. End Ivan Jordan and linebacker Dennis Winston are standouts among six returning defensive starters.

COMING OUT A-HEAD—Texas Christian offensive guard Johnny McWilliams came out of his helmet but kept his head in action against Baylor. The Horned Frogs were unable to keep the game under control, losing 21-7 to the SWC champs.

He has 15 seniors and 21 juniors as the heart of a squad that will try to improve on last year's 2-8-1 effort. Most of the improving will have to be done on offense where Rice ranked last in the league. The Owls' top candidate for all-SWC is wide receiver Ed Lofton.

Jim Shofner left the pro ranks to take the Texas Christian job in '74 and discovered that things weren't as they used to be when he was a star there in the 50's. The talent drawer was all but empty and Shofner had to suffer through a 1-10 season that included an 81-16 loss to Texas. Six offensive and four defensive starters are back from that disaster, but Frog fans are counting on new recruits for a brighter future.

TWO OF TEXAS' LARGEST SCHOOLS will be playing independent schedules this year, one for the last time and the other for the first. The University of Houston is now a member of the SWC but doesn't start playing for the championship until 1976. North Texas State dropped out of the Missouri Valley Conference after last season.

Houston's Bill Yeoman, father of the Veer offense, has seven offensive and five defensive starters back from his ninth straight winning team.

The Cougars have two outstanding offensive threats in fullback John Nounsman, who rushed for 988 yards in '74, and quarterback Bubba McGallion. The defense is headed by tackles Lee Canalito and Wilson Whitley.

North Texas, beginning its second year under Hayden Fry, will try to improve on a 2-7-2 record with a team built around seven offensive and six defensive starters. The key man for the Mean Green will be quarterback Kenny Washington, who worked for 1,500 yards of total offense last time out. He is the kid brother of Oklahoma running star Joe Washington.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN HISTORY, the Southland Conference will be composed of all Division I teams. Arkansas State, Louisiana Tech and McNeese State now have the classification and join Lamar, Southwestern Louisiana and the University of Texas-Arlington.

But that should be the only thing new about the conference. Louisiana Tech has been a member four years and has won four championships. In fact, the Bulldogs have yet to lose a game to a conference foe. They're solid favorites to win again.

Arkansas State, featuring 10 returning starters from the SLC's best defensive team, should contend. Linebacker Mike Malham is the top hand.

McNeese State has the leading quarterback in the conference in Johnnie Thibodeaux, but the Cowboys will be rebuilding their defense.

Lamar was a big surprise last year when it posted an 8-2 record. The defense should be strong again, but the offense may not be up to par.

Southwestern Louisiana and the University of Texas-Arlington should be slightly improved but not enough to seriously challenge the big boys. UTA does own one of the conference's top receivers in Ron Barnett.

If any team surprises, it will be Mississippi Valley with 50 lettermen back.

WAC Savoring Unpredictable Role; Quarterbacks Hold Keys To Success

By JOHN MOONEY

Sports Editor, Salt Lake Tribune

It looks like one of those years when new people—the freshmen, redshirts and transfers—will determine the fortunes of Rocky Mountain area teams.

A funny thing happened to the form chart in the Western Athletic Conference last year. And the 1975 forecast is for even less predictability.

Consider the following events of the WAC's 1975 campaign:

Exhibit A—Arizona State, which had won four outright championships and a co-championship and lost only six games in five years, lost five times, including three in the WAC, to finish third.

EXHIBIT B—UTAH AND WYOMING, normally strong challengers, turned in 1-10 and 2-9 records respectively, and finished seventh and eighth.

Exhibit C—Arizona, picked to end the ASU domination, defeated the Sun Devils for the first time since 1962, but finished only second.

Exhibit D—Brigham Young, overlooked in the pre-season poll, started with three losses and a tie and then won seven in a row, including six conference games, to grab the Cougars' first title since 1965.

But the quarterback who made most of those strange things happen, BYU's Gary Sheide, is gone, and perhaps the 1975 favorite's role should go to the team which comes the closest to producing an effective quarterback in the Sheide tradition.

That could be New Mexico, which returns a healthy Steve Myer, the nation's top passer until he was sidelined with knee surgery after six weeks.

Or it could be Arizona, a solid contender with Bruce Hill at the helm.

AND IT COULD BE ARIZONA State, if the Sun Devils can find some answers to the quarterback problem which plagued them in 1974.

Among the independents, Utah State figures to have another successful year with the country's top rusher and all-purpose runner, Louie Giammona, back for his senior season.

Not that he's "as old as the hills," but Salt Lake Tribune sports editor John Mooney has been covering sports in the Rockies since 1939.

A past president of the Football Writers', he likes to boast that he eats, sleeps and drinks football, but some who have seen him at the bar or table dispute that claim.

Mooney considers himself a former three-sport high school phenom on the basis that anyone who competed 30 years ago must be a phenom by now.

At the University of Iowa, he says, he was rated "poor" to "awful" in attempts at seven different freshman sports, so he turned to writing.

Working upward, here's how the WAC teams appear to stack:

Fred Akers moves from the University of Texas to the University of Wyoming. He has 39 lettermen returning, including five of six top rushers, both quarterbacks, seven of nine receivers, the top punter in the WAC, the top two punt return specialists and top kickoff returners.

The backfield of Rick Costello, Robbie Wright, Larry Gaines and Doug Wilson returns, but split end Steve Burke and guard Mark Seymour are the only offensive line starters back.

After a 2-9 season, Akers admits, "All jobs are up for grabs."

TOM LOVAT HAD A ROUGH SEASON in his first year as head coach at the University of Utah, with the only victory coming at the expense of New Mexico. The Utes will switch to the I formation this fall to take advantage of backfield speed provided by Mark Hoard, redshirt Bob Sweeney, Roosevelt Hutchins, and sophs Steve Peak and Vincent Cotton.

Eight defensive starters are back, with John (Monk) Huddleston an all-America candidate at linebacker. Pat Degnon, who switched from Air Force, may solve a quarterback problem which hurt all last year.

Among the top passing teams in the nation in '74, Colorado State has Mark Driscoll back as the triggerman, along with split end Dan O'Rourke.

Sarkis Arslanian admits, "We had a good year recruiting and feel we have some excellent replacements, but we will lack experience."

TEXAS-EL PASO'S HOPES TO CLIMB in the conference in coach Gil Bartosh's second season depend on rebuilding most of the offensive skill positions. The Miners, 4-7 last season, also lose nine of 11 defensive starters, including LaFreddie Coleman, an all-WAC defensive back for three years.

Leading the offense is Bob McKinley, who was rookie of the year and led the team in total offense and passing from his quarterback spot.

Mike Belew, who was an early-season sensation at fullback, has left school, but Roy Holt, Tanny Johnson and "Flash" Collins should handle the running and receiving in the backfield.

Welton Cobb from Snyder, Texas, an all-state running back and linebacker, is a prize catch.

CRACK THE WHIP—Montana State's Steve Dodds (42) is about to lose teammate Greg Maurer as he swings Idaho State quarterback Pal Sartori in this game of "crack the whip." Sartori and the Bengals were whipped around by the Bobcats, 14-0.

New Mexico, in Bill Mondt's second season, can only see brighter things with Myer recovered from knee surgery.

Seventeen starters are among the 39 returning lettermen, plus 26 frosh, two transfers and 11 redshirts.

In addition to Myer and his replacement, Ken Bryant, Mondt has three of his top four runners returning, headed by Floyd Perry. Top transfer may be fullback Bobby Scott. Eddie Bell at offensive guard is a top lineman.

Arizona State poses several questions on the basis of last year's "collapse" and five losses. Coach Frank Kush has never been optimistic and this year he's playing it cozy, while admitting he has the backbone of a good squad returning to make a comeback in '75.

Mike Haynes, a three-year starter at cornerback and top defensive man, may see action on offense this fall. He led in interceptions with 11.

ASU always has great runners and "Fast Freddie" Williams is no exception. Freddie rushed for 1,299 yards in 249 carries, most yardage ever for a sophomore at Arizona State.

The quarterback grab-bag, including Dennis Sproul, Bruce Hardy and Ray Alexander, may be confused even more if and when Fred Mortensen returns from a mission for the Mormon Church. Fred was tabbed as the heir-apparent for Danny White's job two years ago as a frosh.

There's another question in the case of John Jefferson-Washington, who led the receivers last year with 30 catches under the name of "Washington." This year he has taken his true father's name of "Jefferson" as a soph, but he'll be remembered.

"WHO TURNED OUT THE LIGHTS?" asks Wyoming tight end John Dunn as a Pacific defender protects his anonymity by covering Dunn's eyes before bringing him down. Cowboy Andy Dixon (33) checks the identity of the assailant. UOP won, 50-14.

Arizona State's top loss was Bob Bruenig, an all-America linebacker.

Arizona's bid for undisputed WAC laurels hinges on "T" Bell, a great receiver, and Mike Dawson, a defensive tackle, both touted for "all" honors.

Of Bell coach Jim Young says, "He is a great all-around competitor. Not only is he a great receiver (53 for 700 yards last year) but he is also our top returner on kickoffs and punts." Bell is 6-0, 178, and has 4.6 speed.

Dawson has great quickness and agility, as well as physical strength and size. He makes the big play on defense.

Quarterback Hill was seventh in the nation in total offense and he has the knack of getting the yards, either passing or running.

WHILE SHEIDE STOLE THE HEADLINES for BYU in its comeback bid for the title last year, the Cougars could count on one of the finest defensive walls in western football to hold down the opponents.

Graduation cut heavily into the front wall but three offensive linemen return in Orrin Olsen, an all-America candidate at center; tackle Brad Oates and guard Lloyd Fairbanks. Also back is Jay Miller, the national pass-receiving leader as a soph, who missed last year with an injury.

The first offensive assignment for the staff is finding a quarterback, passer and leader of the Sheide caliber.

Senior Mark Giles, who did adequately as a sub for the injured Sheide in the Fiesta Bowl, and basketball star Gifford Nielsen, a 6-6, 195-pounder, may provide the answer to coach LaVell Edward's hopes for a passer.

GONE IS FLANKER RUN-BACK SPECIALIST John Betham, who did everything for the Cougars, but top rusher, Jeff Blanc, returns at tailback.

The Air Force Academy comes off a 2-9 year with 31 of the top 44 players returning for coach Ben Martin. Ten starters return on defense and six on offense, but quarterbacking may be a problem. Mike Worden and Rob Shaw alternated last year.

Leading rusher Ken Wood heads the returning backs, but rebuilding the offensive line is a major problem. Defensive stalwarts include rover Ray Wile and linebacker Dave Lawson, who also set a collegiate record with 19 field goals, including a 60-yarder.

Coach Phil Krueger's bid to get Utah State into the national football picture hinges this year on a good defensive unit and Louie Giammona, the zig-zag runner. "Little Louie" was rated too small for college football, but he led the nation in rushing with a 153.4-yard average and in all-purpose running with 198.4 yards.

Giammona should receive some help in the backfield from 6-2, 222-pound Paul Tidwell at fullback. Of the 22 players listed on the top defensive units, 17 are lettermen. The big loss was defensive back Bob Fuhrman.

Utah State has never been able to sell itself as a potential member of the WAC, but the Aggies retained the Beehive Boot, which goes to the Utah college football champion.

Boise State has won two straight Big Sky grid titles with perfect 6-0 league marks, so the natural question for football members of that conference is, "Can anyone stop the Broncos this year?"

BSU's offensive machine was first in the nation in 1974 in passing, scoring and total offense in Division II. Offensive starters back are receivers Mike Holton and John Crabtree, plus linemen Glenn Sparks, Todd Whitman and Jim Ryan.

Montana State is missing 12 starters from last year but there are quality players back on offense and defense. Experience, depth and size should help parlay the University of Idaho program into a title contender in 1975.

Northern Arizona has not had a winning season in five years, but new head coach Joe Salem will concentrate on building a solid team from the ground up.

The University of Montana has 11 starters back and a fast finish in '74 gives Idaho State reason to be optimistic. Weber State can only improve.

The Pacific Coast [NCAA District 8]

No Departure From Pacific Pattern; Trojans And Aztecs Should Repeat

By EARL LUEBKER

Sports Editor, Tacoma News Tribune

Some things are sure to happen each football season.

A winning coach will say, "We wanted this one more than they did."

A 100-yard kickoff return will be nullified by a clipping penalty.

Grandstand quarterbacks will ask, "Why didn't he take the sure three points instead of going for a first down?"

New coaches will term their jobs "a challenge," and Southern California will be favored to win the Pacific-8 Conference championship.

The Trojans are in the death-and-taxes category in the sure-thing department. It's in the conference bylaws that they are the pre-season choice to win it all. They consider the Rose Bowl part of their regular schedule and have made it so seven of the last nine years under coach John McKay.

TIME DOESN'T CHANGE ALL THINGS, at least, not in the West. USC again is the people's choice in the Pacific-8.

And just to show the pattern doesn't change much elsewhere, San Diego State, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association's answer to the Trojans, again is rated as the power in that conference.

Things might not be so easy for coach John McKay and the Trojans this time around, however. The other coaches in the Pac-8 think they will be stronger, and it's rebuilding time at USC.

Only eight starters—fewest in the Pac-8—return from the team which beat Ohio State in the '75 Rose Bowl and won the national championship.

Numbered among the missing are Anthony Davis, Heisman runner-up and greatest rusher and kickoff returner in Pac-8 history, and QB Pat Haden, who set three USC passing records.

Gone also are LB Richard Wood, USC's only three-time all-America; all-America back Charles Phillips; offensive guard Bill Bain; field goal record holder Chris Limahelu; and flanker John McKay.

Earl Luebker has been at the Tacoma News Tribune for a quarter of a century, the last 10 years as sports editor.

The Pacific-8 has been his beat for the past 12 seasons, which he considers something of a promotion from one of his first Tacoma assignments as his paper's church editor.

In 1973, the National Association of Sportswriters and Sportscasters honored him as the sportswriter of the year for the state of Washington. He marks that distinction as the closest thing he has to a claim to fame.

Luebker attended the University of Oklahoma, graduating in 1949, before heading west.

"But don't worry about the Trojans," says the coach, "we'll be alive in '75 and a solid team with a chance to develop into a very good one."

Of the eight starters returning, McKay gets an even break—four on offense and four on defense.

The offense returns all three fullbacks, including Dave Farmer, who started most of the time; strong tackle Marvin Powell, strong guard Joe Davis and flanker Shelton Diggs.

THE DEFENSIVE RETURNERS ARE ALL-AMERICA candidate tackle Gary Jeter, inside linebacker Kevin Bruce and cornerbacks Danny Reece and Ron Bush.

The Trojans do have gaps to fill, but there are 11 junior college transfers and 18 freshmen to work with in addition to those who have been around for awhile. Talent never seems to be in short supply at USC.

Across town at UCLA, coach Dick Vermeil has 34 lettermen returning for the annual struggle for dominance in Los Angeles.

The Bruins feel they have a potential Heisman winner in quarterback John Sciarra, back in good health after being sidelined in 1974's seventh game with a broken ankle.

Another offensive plus will be the breakaway talent of halfback Wendell Tyler, who was injured in the ninth game. Vermeil thinks Tyler may be one of the best ball carriers in the West.

The second-year coach believes one of the strengths of the Bruins will be the offensive line but says, "Defensively, we're very inexperienced."

THE STRENGTH OF THE DEFENSIVE UNIT could be Cliff Frazier, 254-pound tackle, and outside linebacker Dale Curry.

Stanford returns 39 lettermen from last year's runnerup in the Pac-8, and the Cardinals' power could be on offense, where six starters return.

The Cards will have all three of their quarterbacks—Mike Cordova, Guy Benjamin and Jerry Waldvogel—back. Coming to a decision on the starter could be one of the major problems.

THE NIGHT HAS A THOUSAND EYES—"Where'd you get them peepers?" wonders Rutgers quarterback Matt Allison with all eyes upon him. The eerie stares at Honolulu Stadium shook up Allison and the Scarlet Knights, as Hawaii pulled a 28-16 upset.

HOT POTATO—Long Beach State quarterback Bob Dulich looks about anxiously for a place to unload the football, while Northern Illinois linebacker Ernie Benion eyes his prey from behind. NIU battled back to burn the 49ers, 16-14.

Key losses on offense include fullback Scott Laidlaw, tackle Keith Rowen and wide receiver Eric Test.

Coach Jack Christiansen lost eight starters on defense, including ends Pat Donovan and Roger Stillwell, linebackers Gordon Riegel and John Snider and safety Doc Blanchard.

THE MAIN CHORE FOR COACH MIKE WHITE at California will be coming up with a replacement for Steve Bartkowski, consensus all-America quarterback.

Junior college transfer Joe Roth is one of the top prospects. Three who were around last year are Mark Cahill, Bartkowski's backup man; Mike Williams, up from the junior varsity, and Fred Besana.

Another item on the White agenda is finding a running back to go along with Chuck Muncie, a 220-pound all-conference selection last year.

The Bears have two fine receivers in Steve Rivera and Wesley Walker, a 9.5 sprinter, but White must find somebody to get the ball to them with close to the efficiency that Bartkowski did.

A solid linebacking corps and middle guard Paul Von Der Mehden return, but beefing up the defense must be high on the priority list.

Oregon State is also in the market for a quarterback replacement.

STRONG-ARMED ALVIN WHITE HAS GRADUATED, and Steve Gervais, who is more of a scrambler than a passer, seems to be the logical choice, although red-shirt Kyle Grossart is also a possibility.

Coach Dee Andros is optimistic. He thinks Dave Brown is the best tight end he has ever coached, and he has other receivers in the likes of Grant Boustead, Matt Hammack and fullback Charlie Smith.

Andros must do some searching for tailbacks and defensive secondary people, but he likes his linebackers, particularly Bob Horn.

FOOTBALL FACE—Santa Clara wide receiver Dennis McClenahan has even begun to look like a football. Portland State linebacker Vernell Outlaw tries to unmask McClenahan who donned this appropriate disguise in the Broncos' 27-26 victory against PSU.

Oregon had its troubles last year with a 2-9 season. Coach Ron Read has 12 JC transfers to help bring the Ducks back to respectability.

The quarterback spot is something of a question mark. Redshirt Phil Brus, who played his freshman ball at California, is a possibility along with Rick Washut. Washut tossed 23 touchdown passes and had a .522 completion average for Wenatchee (Washington) High School in his senior year.

Don Reynolds, the team's leading ground-gainer last year, has graduated, but Teddy Farmer and bulling George Bennett will be back.

THE TOP DEFENSIVE RETURNEES ARE tackle Greg Gibson, nose guard Tom Yaru, linebacker Darrell Mehl and cornerback Mario Clark.

Washington State, like Oregon, was 2-9 last year.

Jim Sweeney has 44 lettermen returning but must find replacements for such key personnel as center Geoff Reece, offensive guard Steve Ostermann and fullback Andrew Jones.

The top returnees include tackle Robin Ross, guard Mark Young and tight end Carl Barschig from the offensive unit and end Mark Husfloen, linebacker Don Hover and cornerback Robert Crow from the defense.

Also coming back is punter Gavin Hedrick. He was second in the Pac-8 and 15th in the nation last year as a freshman with a 41.1-yard average.

Don James, the only new coach in the conference this year at Washington, will have 33 lettermen returning from a team which was 5-6 overall.

THE TOP LOSSES ARE QUARTERBACK Dennis Fitzpatrick and running back Willie Hendricks from the offensive unit and tackles Dave Pear, Eugene Sanders, LB Cornelius Chenevert and punter Skip Boyd from the defense.

Chris Rowland, who started on occasion and then suffered a foot injury, will be back at quarterback to run the "I" formation as taught by James. Cliff McBride is also available.

Robin Earl, a 245-pounder who switched from tight end to fullback in the middle of the season and finished with 606 yards and a 5.6 average after the move, will be back for the Huskies.

In addition to Rowland and Earl, the top returnees include center Ray Pinney, wide receiver Scott Phillips, linebacker Dan Lloyd, defensive back Al Burleson and placekicker Steve Robbins.

While the PCAA will have that familiar look with San Diego State as the favorite, the conference also will have something different—a new kid on the block. California State at Fullerton has joined the fold.

FULLERTON NOT ONLY WILL BE NEW to the league, but the Titans will also have a different coach. He's Jim Colletto, a 30-year-old former assistant at the University of Pacific.

San Diego, the perennial powerhouse in the league, figures to be strong. Coach Claude Gilbert has 28 lettermen returning—16 on offense and 12 on defense—from last year's conference champions.

Quarterback Craig Penrose, 6-3 and 200, is among the returnees. He was the nation's seventh-leading passer last season as a junior even though he missed all or part of five games with injuries.

Monty Reed and fullback Bill Fudge provide a pair of fine running backs, and Gilbert feels the Aztecs are well fixed at every position but wide receiver. There he has talent but not much experience.

SAN JOSE STATE, WHICH SHARED the No. 2 spot with Pacific, returns 44 lettermen, but coach Darryl Rogers is confronted with a major problem in finding a replacement for quarterback Craig Kimball.

In his three seasons as a Spartan, Kimball accounted for 6,139 yards and POOR ODDS—UCLA quarterback John Sciarra has little chance as it is with three Stanford defenders taking him down, but Cardinal reinforcements are on the way to make matters worse. The Bruins were on equal terms when it was all over, though, 13-13.

50 touchdowns with his passes.

Roger Profitt seems the most logical choice to inherit the position because he has been with the Spartans the longest. Other possibilities are redshirts Blair Thomas (via the University of Houston) and Steve DeBerg, from Fullerton Junior College. Jim LeJay from Pasadena Community College and Ed Luther, a 202-pound freshman, are also hopefuls.

ROGERS FEELS THAT DEFENSIVE TACKLE Wilson Faumuina, 6-5, 275-pound junior, could be the best defensive lineman in the country and also has hopes for Carl Ekern, 215-pound senior middle linebacker.

Pacific has been on the winning track for three straight seasons now, but coach Chester Caddas could have some problems this time around.

His biggest chore will be trying to cover up the absence of running back Willard Harrell. Harrell averaged 130 yards per game last season, and his absence does take something away from the offense.

Oreaser Brown, who played wingback last season, is a possible as is junior Dale Williams and sophomore Darwin Benjamin.

Caddas has 30 lettermen returning, 10 of whom started the final game last season. Only 14 lettermen graduated, but 12 of them were starters.

Defensively, seven starters return, but Caddas will still have to rely heavily on a crop of 23 junior college transfers.

LONG BEACH STATE CAME BACK to a respectable 6-5 record last year after the 1-9-1 disaster in 1973, and Wayne Howard hopes for more improvement.

Howard will have 30 returning lettermen, including six starters on offense and five on defense. The 49ers also had a successful junior college recruiting campaign, landing 18 transfers.

One of the chief absentees is quarterback Bob Dulich, who had nearly 2,000 yards in total offense last year. Newcomer Joe Paopao of Mira Costa JC will battle with lettermen Lloyd Michaelson and Dave Dykstra and red-

MYSTERIOUS LEVITATION—The floating helmet might belong to an invisible, and obviously unidentified, midget from Alcorn State, but the appearance of spirits didn't scare the University of Nevada, Las Vegas which victimized Alcorn, 35-22.

FINGERTIP CONTROL—Stanford flanker Tony Hill makes it look easy, disposing of Oregon State linebacker Randy McIlvray with the touch of a hand enroute to a 43-yard gain. Though not so easily, Stanford disposed of the Beavers, 17-13.

shirt Brad Walker for the starting spot.

If the 49ers can find a passer to replace Dulich, they have the wide receivers with all four returning from last year—Stanford Brewer, Dan Jones (who has 44 career catches), Zannie Adams and Tom Boehme.

Howard concentrated his junior college search on defense and the offensive line, and he thinks he has come up with a pair of good ones in Rich Valenzuela, 240-pound defensive tackle, and linebacker Sam Tagaloa.

Fresno State had a 1-3 PCAA record last season, as did Long Beach, but the Bulldogs could be the conference darkhorse this year.

Coach J. R. Boone has Neftali Cortez returning at quarterback and some junior college transfers coming into the skilled positions.

Cortez, although he had a little trouble getting started, finished with 120 completions for a .471 percentage and 1,916 yards with 15 touchdowns. His favorite target, tight end Calvin Young, will be back. Young missed the first four games last year but still managed 26 catches for 417 yards.

Fullerton State had a 4-7 record last year playing in Division II. The Titans played three games against PCAA opponents in 1974, but they couldn't win one of them.

Colletto has 46 lettermen returning from that squad. Nine were starters, five on offense and four on defense.

The major losses through graduation include quarterback Glen Cardarelli, defensive tackle Wayne Bootow and defensive back Johnnie Gray.

Colletto feels that Roe McClendon could be an outstanding running back if he learns to hold onto the ball. He fumbled 17 times last season.

The new coach says, "We have four major areas of strength. We have good depth at quarterback in Daryl Johns, Steve Martindale, Gary Wood and Mike Rundle." Johns and Martindale are lettermen, Wood a redshirt and Rundle a junior college transfer.

"Secondly, we will have about 80 bodies to pick from," Colletto said, "and we have a good group of young football players who will be sophomores next fall. And, finally, our players have expressed their willingness to work harder at becoming a football team than they have in the past."

At Hawaii, the major independent in the district, Larry Price has three problem areas to deal with—the offensive line, split receiver and tight end positions.

Eight blue chip JC transfers join forces with 41 returning lettermen to offset the loss of 21 letter winners, including 11 starters. All-America defensive linemen Cliff Laboy and John Woodcock are among top returnees.

After a year's work with the Hula T, Price plans to put a little more zip in the attack by installing the option.

The California Collegiate Athletic Association should enjoy a banner year in 1975, and a fierce battle for the championship is expected.

Defending conference champion UC Riverside loses only two people, and runner-up Cal Poly San Luis Obispo will have everyone but six letter winners back. Cal Poly Pomona has energetic coach Andy Vinci, who has been working overtime on the recruiting trail. Cal State Los Angeles started fast last year but faded. Still, the Diablos had their finest record in years. Only Northridge State could be a weak sister, but skipper Gary Torgeson enters his third year, and it wouldn't be a surprise if his troops were more competitive.

Riverside will be led by all-conference quarterback Dan Hayes, probably one of the best on the West Coast for '75. San Luis Obispo should have the CCAA's top runner in Gary Davis, who romped a conference-leading 872 yards last year.

Vinci's biggest job at Pomona will be replacing quarterback Jim Zorn. At Los Angeles, Jim Williams needs to restock plenty of areas.

Northridge linebacker Melvin Wilson plays like he weighs 235 instead of 185, but the Matadors need much more help.

Jim Socher, head coach at UC Davis, has brought togetherness to his fellow coaches. They all agree that the Aggies are odds on favorites to retain the FWC title, since they return 37 lettermen, including 13 starters and the entire starting backfield, from last year's champs.

The other five teams were all tied for second last year, and it will be tight again. Humboldt State had a strong finish and is picked to be stronger.

Chico State quarterback prospects look good and San Francisco State has the league's total offense leader in quarterback Dave August coming back.

The offensive line at Hayward will be new and Sacramento State returns George Sula, the offensive player of the year for the FWC in 1974.

It doesn't look as though there will be much change in this year's Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference race.

Defending conference champion Redlands, runnerup Whittier and third-place La Verne all return some key personnel.

The University of Redlands, unbeaten in the conference last year, returns outstanding performers such as QB Steve Vento, running back David D'Arcangelo, tight end Bob Downs, punter Brian DeRoo and place-kicker Don Damschen.

Whittier welcomes back QB Mark Montgomery, running backs Lionel Punchard and Dan Chikami and punter Mike Raymond.

La Verne will have back 10 top-notch stars from the past season, including QBs Dave Maloof, Randy Brown and Ricky Tedford; fullbacks Curtis Frick and Ben Morrow and linebacker John Herrera.

Bowl Game Wins By Irish And Trojans Determine Nation's Best Sans Playoff

By TOM McEWEN

Sports Editor, Tampa Tribune

Immediate Past President, Football Writers' Association of America

Forever, it seems, there has been a lobby for the establishment of a playoff system to determine the national collegiate football champion.

In the last decade, the hue and cry has grown louder. Plans have been offered (and turned down). Committees have been appointed. The clamor grew more vigorous in the last two years, causing the bowl people to feel put-upon, unappreciated, and edgy.

All they—the bowl people and the we-want-a-playoff people—need do is look at the results of the last two bowl seasons and they just may find there is no need for playoffs.

The truth is, for the seasons of 1973 and '74, the national championship was determined by playoffs, in the tinsel costume of bowl games.

CAN ANYONE FORGET THE SUGAR BOWL meeting of unbeaten Alabama and undefeated Notre Dame that New Year's Eve in 1973 when a bit of late derring-do preserved precious victory for Notre Dame and gave the Irish the national championship by acclamation?

No way, all were convinced, such high drama could be repeated in the 1974 bowl series, especially with all of the teams being picked at a record early date. No way.

But there was, and for the second year, the big bowls were indeed as effective in determining the national championship as any playoff Duffy Daugherty may have devised, providing, of course, all agree that undefeated, but on-probation, Oklahoma could not be considered.

With Oklahoma sitting out the 1974 bowl season, the two matchups on whose outcome lay the national championship were Ohio State (10-1) vs.

Southern California (9-1-1) and the rematch of Alabama (11-0-0) and Notre Dame (9-2-0).

The Rose Bowl was a sellout and worthy of it, though those billed as stars weren't. It was supposed to be a matchup of great runners, Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin and Anthony Davis of SC.

GRIFFIN GAINED 75 yards for Ohio State in 20 carries, his 100-yards-a-game streak broken after 22. Davis left with an injury after gaining 67 yards.

Sports editor of the Tampa Tribune for 14 years, Tom McEwen continues to pen a six-days-a-week sports column and garner various honors.

In other years, he has been president of the Football Writers and the Florida Writers. In addition, he was chosen as the namesake for a thoroughbred, a greyhound and a latrine at Camp Blanding.

Continuing the trend this year, he won an award for best columns in Florida and saw the greyhound, Tom McEwen, withdrawn from racing to stand stud—the price: $200.

McEwen says there should be little doubt of which recent development he is most proud.

With 6:38 remaining in the Rose Bowl, Czechoslovakian-born Tom Klavan kicked a 32-yard field goal to put the Buckeyes ahead, 17-10.

The score was unchanged with 2:03 to go when Rhodes scholar Pat Haden passed for a touchdown to edge USC to within a point. The Trojans, aiming for nothing short of the national title, lined up for the two-point conversion. Haden passed to Sheldon Diggs who caught the ball while sprawled on the ground. Southern Cal had won, 18-17.

Before the Orange Bowl, in classic drama, coach Ara Parseghian announced he was resigning after the game, the result notwithstanding.

As it turned out, most of the drama was in the buildup, except for a flurry late in the game. Alabama played very un-Alabama-like. Notre Dame played with the expected inspiration. A fumbled Notre Dame punt led to the first Irish TD, and an offside on fourth and four paved the way for another Notre Dame score as the Parseghian-men took a 13-0 lead.

An Alabama field goal just before the half closed it to 13-3 and after a punchless third quarter, Alabama closed in 11-13 on a 48-yard touchdown pass and a two-point conversion. Time left for Alabama to win the national championship was 3:13.

It wasn't enough. Alabama got the ball, all right, but the Irish got it back on a game-saving interception. The Irish had won one for Ara.

Alabama and Bryant remained snake-bitten in bowl games, failing to win for the eighth straight time.

Southern California was voted the national championship, by all who excluded Oklahoma from consideration, as a result of the "bowl play-offs."

The other post-season games had their special flavor and some fascinating results that had effects on the final polls of the season.

In the Sugar at New Orleans, Nebraska of the Big Eight ruled a solid favorite over Florida of the Southeastern Conference. One reason for Nebraska's favored role was passing whiz, David Humm, at quarterback.

FOOTHOLD—Notre Dame quarterback Tom Clements tries to slip from the grasp of Alabama's Mike Dubose. Clements was tripped up here, but it was the Fighting Irish who pulled the rug out from under Alabama, 13-11, in the Orange Bowl.

Surprisingly, the Gators had taken a 10-0 halftime lead and in the third period, Florida was one play and one yard away from perhaps putting the game away when a Gator halfback slipped trying to cut inside the Nebraska wide defender. He fell less than a yard from the vital six points.

That aroused Nebraska. With aptly-named reserve quarterback Terry Luck leading the way, the Huskers stayed strictly on the ground, moving 99 yards to a touchdown. Next, Mike Coyle kicked a 37-yard field goal to tie it and, with 2:35 left, Coyle kicked one of 33 that was just inside the standard, and Nebraska had victory after all, 13-10.

BAYLOR HAD NOT WON A SOUTHWEST Conference title in 50 years of trying and had lost all of its conference games the season before. But, in 1974, Baylor was 8-3 and a proud team that faced the Eastern champion Penn State Nittany Lions of Joe Paterno in the Cotton Bowl.

Penn State went into the game 9-2, a four-point pick and seventh-ranked to Baylor's 12th ranking. They pasted Baylor in the final quarter for a wild 41-20 win. Baylor led 14-10 with 4:23 to go in the third period, but from that point on, Tom Shuman, angry at an official's call that figured in the Baylor scoring, passed 49 yards for a score and put the Lions on their way to a 24-point fourth quarter.

The Peach Bowl saw no touchdowns scored, but instead two field goals each, for a 6-6 tie between Texas Tech (6-4-1) and Vanderbilt (7-3-1).

In the Gator Bowl, Texas and Auburn matched turnovers but the result was a solid 27-3 Auburn win over Darrell Royal's Longhorns. Auburn was the surprise of the SEC, the Gator win producing a splendid 10-2 season record, while Texas wound up 8-4.

OKLAHOMA STATE KEPT THE BIG EIGHT'S bowl record strong with a 16-6 win over Brigham Young in the Fiesta Bowl. Brigham Young led 6-0 at one point and 3-0 when star quarterback Gary Shide, the nation's leading passer, separated his shoulder. After that, it was all Oklahoma State.

The Tangerine Bowl gave Miami of Ohio another opportunity to prove its prowess. A crowd of 17,000 saw the Redskins of the Mid-American Conference make the University of Georgia their second SEC victim in a row (it was Florida a year ago) and extended their non-losing streak to 22.

Mississippi State made its first bowl trip in 11 years a memorable one by edging North Carolina in the 40th Sun Bowl at El Paso and ended its year with a fine 9-3 record. Mississippi State set a Sun Bowl record with its 497-yard total offense, and running back Walter Packer set an individual rushing mark with 183 yards gained.

WILDEST SCORING GAME OF THE BOWL SEASON was the indoor affair at Houston's Astrodome, the Astro-Bluebonnet, when Houston and North Carolina State saw time run out when the scoring had reached 31-31. Houston led 31-17 with 7:55 left in the game, but the Wolfpack scored two touchdowns and one two-point conversion in less than a minute to force the tie.

In the first bowl game of the season, the Liberty at Memphis, Maryland seemed on its way to a 3-0 win over Tennessee. Steve Mike-Mayer's field goal gave Jerry Claiborne's Atlantic Coast Conference champion Terps the slim margin but, with 2:38 left, Maryland punter Phil Wagenheim dropped a fourth-down center-snap and was tackled at the Maryland seven. Reserve Tennessee quarterback Randy Wallace rose to the occasion, passing for the last-second touchdown that won the game.

DIVISIONS II - III CHAMPIONSHIPS

Division II and III Titles Find Homes At Central Michigan And Central, Iowa

By GRAYLE HOWLETT

Director of Marketing, National Collegiate Athletic Association

In two completely different football games, Central Michigan University and Central College of Iowa won the National Collegiate Division II and the Division III Football Championships.

Grayle Howlett

Central Michigan manhandled Delaware, 54-14, in the Division II title game at the Camellia Bowl in Sacramento. For the Chippewas, it was their 12th win of the 1974 season after an opening game loss.

One week earlier at the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl in Phoenix City, Alabama, Central College needed a fourth-quarter touchdown to record its Division III title win, 10-8, over Ithaca. For Central, the come-from-behind victory topped off a perfect 11-0 season.

AS THE EXPERTS LOOKED OVER the eight-team field in the Division II title run, three teams dominated the conversation. Louisiana Tech was the defending champion and had the longest winning streak—23 games—at that time in college football. Boise State had made it to the semifinals in 1973, and in '74 was 10-1 and led the nation in three offensive categories. Delaware, a perennial powerhouse, again looked strong with its awesome ground game.

Central Michigan had to face all three of those teams in the playoffs.

On a cold and windy day in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, the Chips began their trek to the title in a first-round contest against Big Sky champion Boise State. Both were national leaders (Boise in total offense, passing offense and scoring; and Central in rushing offense) and both had outstanding individuals. Boise's Jim McMillan was an all-America at quarterback and Division II's top passer, while his receiver, Mike Holton, was near the top in catches. Central Michigan countered with quarterback Mike Franckowiak and 1,000-yard rusher Walt Hodges.

BUT IT WAS THE CENTRAL MICHIGAN DEFENSE which stole the show, limiting Boise State to only a fourth-quarter touchdown, far below the Broncos' 44.6 per game average. In the meantime, Central Michigan's ground game netted 313 yards and produced second-half scoring drives of 69, 46 and 69 yards. Dick Dunham scored two TDs and Hodges rushed for 133 yards.

In the other first round action, Delaware played opportunistic football to eliminate Youngstown State, 35-14, at Newark, Delaware. With Youngstown riding the passing arm of quarterback Cliff Stoudt and Delaware converting a fumble and a blocked kick into instant touchdowns, the score was tied at 14 at the end of the first half.

In the second half, the Blue Hens put the game away with two interception returns for touchdowns and an 82-yard pass play from quarterback Bill Zwaan to Bill Cubit for another score.

AT ARM'S LENGTH—With football in hand, Central quarterback Gary Cutler tries to keep Ithaca's Harry Meshirer at a safe distance. Central managed to keep just enough of a margin over Ithaca to win the Division III championship, 10-8.

Louisiana Tech hosted once-beaten Western Carolina in another first-round game. Tech indicated early that it was out to defend its title when, on the Bulldogs' first play from scrimmage, Roland Harper bolted 54 yards for a touchdown. That play was set up by an interception by Tech's Donnie Perry on the Bulldogs' own three-yard line and a 43-yard interception return.

WESTERN CAROLINA TIED IT AT THE 4:11 mark of the third quarter when full-back Herb Cole scored from two yards out. Cole's plunge was preceded by 47-yard pass play between quarterback Danny Dalton and wide receiver Wayne Tolleson. Then, with 1:36 left in the game, Jerry Pope kept Tech moving for the title with a 22-yard field goal.

In Las Vegas, the undefeated Rebels from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas conquered the Braves from Alcorn State, 35-22. Sophomore quarterback Glenn Carano sparked the offense with 13 completions in 20 attempts for 213 yards and three touchdowns. The Rebels' passing attack was somewhat of a surprise, but was influenced by the fact that all-America Mike Thomas, the nation's leading rusher, was out with a sprained ankle.

And then there were four. In the Division II semifinal game at the Grantland Rice Bowl in Baton Rouge, Las Vegas had Mike Thomas back but Delaware had a high-octane ground attack which beat the Rebels, 49-11.

After spotting Las Vegas a first quarter field goal, the Blue Hens scored six consecutive touchdowns, all on the ground, including drives of 60, 67, 85 and 93 yards. Running back Vern Roberts scored four times.

IN THE OTHER DIVISION II SEMIFINAL, it was virtually the same script as Central Michigan scored five consecutive touchdowns to build up a 35-point lead and bring Louisiana Tech's one-year reign to an end.

The Chippewas pounded away with a ground game that resulted in 277 yards, and Hodges got his tenth straight 100-yard game with a 118-yard day. Tech added two late touchdowns to cut the final margin to 35-14.

gan's Dunham rambled 68 yards for a score.

The Chippewas added a field goal and a two-yard touchdown run by Hodges in the first quarter to make it 16-0. Delaware's quarterback Bill Zwaan cut the margin to 16-8 when he scored on a one-yard sneak, but then Central Michigan added five touchdowns, three by Durham, and a field goal to put the game out of reach, 54-8.

The Division III championship opened play with semifinal contests at Ithaca and Evansville. Ithaca College and Slippery Rock had fought it out during the season for the Lambert Cup, mythical claim to Eastern supremacy, but the Division III pairings decided the whole matter on the field. Both were undefeated, with Ithaca 9-0 and Slippery Rock 8-0-1.

Ithaca displayed its potent ground game by promptly marching 67 yards in 15 plays for an early 6-0 lead.

Slippery Rock took the lead in the second quarter on a strange play. Dan Romaniszyn fumbled in the end zone and center Don Bowley fell on the ball for the score. A blocked punt led to Ithaca's go-ahead score, an 18-yard ramble by quarterback Jerry Boyes, but then Slippery Rock blocked a punt and two plays later had a 14-12 lead at the half.

But the second half was all Ithaca as a bungled field goal attempt resulted in a 35-yard TD run by 1,000-yard man Dave Remick and produced the 27-14 Ithaca win.

Once-beaten Evansville hosted Central College of Iowa in the other semifinal, and Central needed a heart-stopping 17-16 win to advance. After a 10-yard scoring pass from Evansville's Ron Sutton to Bill Studwell, Central scored twice on a 45-yard interception TD return by Al Dorenkamp and a Gary Cutler pass to Bob Vitanza. In the second half both teams scored field goals, but then Evansville exploded with a 51-yard scoring play from Sutton to Thom Endress. The Purple Aces elected to kick, but Central blocked the attempt and Evansville's right to go on.

At the championship game in Phoenix City, Central and Ithaca provided more exciting moments. After exchanging first half field goals, Ithaca took the lead in the third quarter with a 27-yard field goal by Frank Markovick. Early in the fourth quarter, Central's Cutler and Marc Humphry teamed for a 50-yard pass play to the Ithaca three. One play later, Cutler sneaked for the touchdown and a 10-6 lead.

Late in the fourth quarter, Central's Mark Urbanek ran the ball out of his own end zone for an intentional safety which gave Ithaca two points but also ran out the clock and preserved the win.

Griffin, Washington Lead A New Breed, Created By '72 Freshmen-Eligible Rule

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associate Director, National Collegiate Sports Services

Under a three-division reorganization plan adopted by the special NCAA Convention of August 1973, teams classified major-college in football on August 1, 1973, were placed in Division I. There are 133 teams in Division I. College-Division teams were divided into Division II (133 teams) and Division III (199 teams).

Archie Griffin finds himself in a unique situation. The humble Ohio State senior can become the first player to rush 5,000 career yards for a major team, and the first ever to win the Heisman Trophy twice.

Jim Van Valkenburg

Except for Griffin, Oklahoma's Joe Washington might now have the same chance. Like Griffin, he reached 3,000 as a junior, a once unheard-of feat. Like Griffin, he was a unanimous all-America. And he's the only 1975 returnee among the national leaders in four categories—rushing, scoring, punt returns and all-purpose running.

LOOK AT PITTSBURGH'S TONY DORSETT—more than halfway to 5,000 with two seasons left. They are foremost in a new breed, created by the 1972 freshmen-eligible rule that gave gifted running backs a headstart in publicity and spurred by the national swing to Veer and Wishbone running games. Now the dropback quarterback who dominates games is rare, while the new breed harvests headlines with 200-yard games and 1,000-yard seasons. And it seems the 5,000-yard career is near.

Despite the trend to Veers and Wishbones, I-formation tailbacks are a majority among returning 1,000-yarders. Both Wisconsin's Bill Marek, defending scoring champion, and Utah State's Louie Giammona, defending rushing and all-purpose champion, are stubby I backs (both seniors).

IF GRIFFIN DOESN'T REPEAT in the Heisman (Roger Staubach, Doak Walker, Doc Blanchard and Vic Janowicz failed), it won't be because he became big-headed. Archie's Heisman speech was from the heart and made many jaded New Yorkers reach for their handkerchiefs. His is an extremely close family headed by a man who has worked on two jobs a day for 20 years. All seven sons played football, which to Archie represents the good things of life. "I'll try to set a great example," he pledged.

In Washington's football family, father Joe Sr., coaches Lincoln Prep in Port Arthur, Tex., Friday night, watches Joe play Saturday afternoon, then races back to see Kenny quarterback North Texas State that night. Both Washington (3,124) and Griffin (3,820) can break the major-college career rushing record (4,715 by Cornell's Ed Marinaro, 1969-71).

Giammona's wife Kathy fixes spaghetti dinners for the entire offensive line when Louie rushes 100 yards. Kathy fixed eight big dinners in 1974.

Fortunately, Griffin's mother made no such promise to her son, because Archie has rushed over 100 yards for 21 consecutive regular-season games (his streak of 22 including bowls was ended by Southern Cal).

After an injury knocked Marek out of two games, Wisconsin's offensive line vowed on his return to "get 1,000 for Billy," then helped him to an amazing 740 his last three games (the all-time record is 744).

Other top-five returnees in rushing, scoring or all-purpose running are Bowling Green's Dave Preston, Citadel's Andrew Johnson, Boston College's Keith Barnette, Cornell's Don Fanelli, Miami (O.)'s Rob Carpenter, Northwestern's Jim Pooler and North Carolina's Jim Betterson, who alternated with Mike Voight, both rushing over 1,000—a first-ever.

PASSING AND TOTAL OFFENSE have the same No. 1 returnee—Toledo senior Gene Swick, who missed a double crown by five completions and nine yards and led the top 25 passers in completion percentage at .620. Swick needs 2,520 yards to break Jim Plunkett's all-time major-college career record of 7,887 rushing-passing yards (set at Stanford, 1968-70).

Two other senior quarterbacks are outstanding in the classroom as well—Colorado State's Mark Driscoll, No. 2 in both categories, who boasts a 3.09 grade average (4.0 is perfect) as a management major, and Tulsa's Jeb Blount, 3.0 in education. Remarkably, Driscoll didn't earn a starting job until the fifth game of the season.

The No. 3 total-offense returnee, Arizona senior Bruce Hill, is a good option runner whose 304 net rushing was more than any quarterback in the top 10 except Tampa's graduated Fred Solomon. Third in passing is Craig Penrose, a 6-3 senior and another in the line of top quarterbacks at San Diego State. He had only nine interceptions in 235 attempts.

FRESNO STATE SENIOR NEF CORTEZ is No. 4 in total offense. Highest-ranking junior is Stanford's 6-4 Mike Cordova, even though he shared the starting role with two others. Princeton senior Ron Beible is a B student in civil engineering. Virginia's Scott Gardner and UCLA's John Seiarra are sleepers. Both led the country before being injured.

The top five returning receivers—all seniors—are Holy Cross' Dave Quehl, whose brother plays tackle at Notre Dame, Cornell's Bruce Starks, California's Steve Rivera, Arizona's T. Bell and Tulsa's Steve Largent, a 3.2 arts and sciences student whose 14 TD catches led the nation.

But don't forget the 1973 champion, Brigham Young's Jay Miller, whose 100 catches that year was second highest ever (he was injured last year).

AIR FORCE'S DAVE LAWSON, whose 19 field goals set a national record, is a starting linebacker and excels in five sports. The 219-pound senior also plays varsity track and baseball, club handball, was a finalist in heavy-weight boxing at the Academy and a parachutist. His 60-yarder against Colorado was the season's longest. His kicking beat Navy 19-16 and kept the Falcons in six other games they lost by an average of 2.5 points.

Next are New Mexico's Bob Berg, a 3.31 art student whose 18 FGs tied the old record, and Southwestern Louisiana's Rafael Septien, a soccer-style Mexico City native with amazing range and accuracy—with both legs. Lawson needs just five FGs to break the national career record 42 by Stanford's Rod Garcia, whose brother Al is a Fresno State senior kicker.

Only other defending champions are Arizona State senior Mike Haynes in interceptions and Appalachian junior Joe Parker in punting. Iowa State's junior Luther Blue leads kickoff-runback returnees and Memphis State sophomore Keith Wright heads those in punt returns.

'74 Season Individual Leaders

California's Steve Bartkowski, the passing champion, and Temple's Steve Joachim, the total-offense champion, had a lot in common: They are two of the tallest quarterbacks in the major ranks, each 6-4. Both had to make important decisions midstream in their college careers. (As a junior, Bartkowski was on the verge of quitting football to concentrate on baseball, while Joachim didn't fit in as a dropback passer at Penn State and transferred after his sophomore year.)

Both led their teams to success after years of famine. Cal came within a few seconds and two field goals of winning the Pacific-8, for its best year since 1958. Joachim's teams were 17-3—best two-year record in Temple history (better even than Pop Warner's 1934-35 Sugar Bowlers).

Like the two champions, Brigham Young's Gary Sheide led his team out of the wilderness. After a 0-3-1 start behind a green line, he led BYU to its first bowl ever on a 7-0-0 finish, during which his 19.3 completion average nearly caught Bartkowski. Toledo's Gene Swick just missed being a double champion. Joachim's edge was his smart Veer-T running.

Bartkowski's interception record was one of the best ever—only seven in 325 passes (among those with 300 attempts only Jerry Rhyme's four of 326 for Tulsa in 1964 was better). On the career charts, Tampa's Fred Solomon became the first T quarterback ever to rush more than 3,000 yards; David Humm of Nebraska averaged 7.9 yards per pass attempt, third highest ever to Florida State's Gary Huff (8.1) and Arizona State's Danny White (9.1); and Sheide finished second to Drake's Johnny Bright (1949-51, 2.56) by running or passing for 2.52 TDs per game, fourth with 17.0 completions per game (behind Chuck Hixson, John Reaves and Jim Plunkett) and fifth in completion percentage at .603.

Two receivers stood out above the pack. San Diego State's Dwight McDonald, a 23-year-old transfer from U.S. International, won the national receiving crown. He's the latest in a long line of top SDS receivers (Isaac Curtis, Tom Reynolds, Tim Delaney, Haven Moses and Gary Garrison).

Colorado State's 27-year-old Willie Miller, who won a Soldier's Medal and Silver Star in Viet Nam, led the country in receiving yards at 1,193 and set an all-time national record of 22.5 yards per catch. He ended up sixth in career yards (2,735) and third in yards per catch (18.5). He plans to work with disadvantaged children after his football career.

Utah State's Louie Giammona used three 200-yard games to edge Ohio State's Archie Griffin for the national rushing championship and win the national all-purpose crown by a wide margin over Pacific's Willard Harrell. Still another I-formation tailback, Wisconsin's Bill Marek, won the scoring crown. Marek scored 30 points in his final game, the same day he rushed for the national season high of 304 yards—his third straight game over 200 (only John Cappelletti, the 1973 Heisman winner, ever did that). Heisman winner Griffin led the country in yards per carry (6.9), edging Oklahoma's Joe Washington (6.8). On the career charts, USC's Anthony Davis finished seventh in scoring (302) and rushing (3,426), Harrell 10th (3,324), Tampa's Solomon 13th (3,299) and Iowa State's Mike Strachan (3,010) became the 27th player to reach 3,000.

Maryland's Steve Mike-Mayer, the national kick-scoring champion, shared honors with three kickers. Air Force's Dave Lawson set a major-college record of 19 FGs, New Mexico's Bob Berg tied the old record of 18, and Southwestern Louisiana's Rafael Septien averaged an amazing 41.8 yards on his 15 field goals and was 71 per cent accurate from 57 yards in. The punting championship went to Appalachian's Joe Parker at 44.3.

Holy Cross' John Provost, whose 27 career interceptions just missed the all-time high of 29, also missed the season title when Arizona State's Mike Haynes stole two in the last game at Hawaii to win it with 11 in 12 games. Provost won the punt-return crown, however, at 18.3. Anthony Davis of Southern Cal was awarded the kickoff return title because even with three more returns (making 1.3 per game, over the 1.2 qualifying) for zero yards, he would still have the highest average (first time the rule could be used). All-time career highs were set by Provost in interception yards (470) and by Davis with six kickoff-return TDs.

'74 Season Team Leaders

11-0-0 Oklahoma topped the country in rushing, scoring and total offense, becoming the 12th major in history to win an offensive triple crown (the fourth OU team to do it—no other major did it more than once), and the eighth to combine a triple crown with a perfect regular season. Oklahoma's 438.8-yard rushing average was second all-time (to OU's 472.4 in '71). Ohio State was national runnerup in all three categories by wide margins, but Buckeye fans could argue their team was more efficient, with a leading 6.3 yards per rushing-passing play to Oklahoma's 6.2.

Colorado State won the passing crown by a wide margin over California and North Carolina's .678 pass completion percentage set a record.

National rushing yardage (both teams combined) hit an all-time high of 403.8 yards per game. So did yards per attempted pass at 6.50.

Notre Dame won the national rushing and total defense championships in spite of a last-game rout by Southern Cal (who did it mostly on runbacks) and harvested its first defensive titles under Ara Parseghian after years of coming close. Michigan won its third scoring-defense championship in the last four years. During Bo Schembechler's six years as coach, Michigan leads the country in winning (58-5-1), scoring defense (7.8) and fewest turnovers per game (1.6). Iowa won the pass-defense title, permitting just 65.7 yard per game and a completion percentage of .385. Alabama allowed the fewest yards per attempted pass at 4.1.

Top Returning Rushers In Division II Overcame More Than A Few Problems

By JERRY KLEIN

National Collegiate Sports Services

A bruising tailback who plays at a school where the big sport is ice hockey and a pair of gutty running backs who pay no attention to their size headline the nation's top returning Division II rushers.

A hockey power for years, Michigan Tech won the 1975 NCAA championship. Not surprisingly, getting football recognition there is rather difficult, but maybe it will be a little easier for Jim VanWagner this season.

HE LED THE NATION IN RUSHING in '74 at 161.4 yards per game. Four times he topped 200 yards, and one game rushed for 286 and six TDs. He's also the leading scoring returnee.

VanWagner deserves a lot of credit for doing so well. Tech's light offensive line, which included VanWagner's brother Tom, a guard, averaged only 190 pounds. At 6-2, 190, VanWagner was bigger than all but one of the starters, and accordingly gained many yards solely on his power running. He's a junior.

The "little men" are Eastern Kentucky's Everett Talbert and Indiana State's Vincent Allen. They have sprinter speed, hustle and drive.

Talbert is nicknamed Poo-Loo, braids his hair after each game, and clearly recalls his sisters beating up on him in high school. He's 5-8, 170, but says, "some of the best players are small. With speed and a lot of heart, I figure I can do the same things as any big man."

Listed at 5-8 in State brochure, Allen himself says he's probably 5-7, maybe even 5-6. Over the past two seasons he put together an impressive streak of 14 straight 100-yard games.

ALLEN AND TALBERT ARE JUNIORS. Other top returnees are Elizabeth City's Jerome Newsome and Youngstown State's John Kinch. Missing from this group is Walt Hodges. His Central Michigan team is now classified major-college. Joining him in Division I will be quarterback Bob Bateman, who would have been the top passing returnee. He transferred to Brown when Vermont dropped football.

As a result, Indiana (Pa.)'s Lynn Hieber heads the field in both total offense and passing. He played the first two games last season with a broken finger on his passing hand. Top challengers in both categories are Portland State's Mike Gardner, Northern Iowa's Bill Salmon, Northwestern Louisiana's Butch Ballard and Butler's Bill Lynch.

A starting guard on the basketball team and dean's list student, Lynch has discovered that being chased by onrushing linemen may not be so dangerous after all. The day he was named MVP of the Indiana Collegiate Conference, he was in a restaurant during a robbery, and consequently taken to an attic where he was tied and gagged.

Receiving returnees feature Boise State's Mike (Motor Mouse) Holton; Portland State's John Mills, who will be catching passes from the veteran Gardner; and St. Cloud State's John (Komet) Kimbrough, a 9.5 sprinter.

Defending their championships are Wayne State's Terry Rusin in interceptions and Montana's Greg Anderson in both kickoff and punt returns. Rusin's thefts won three games and Anderson provided excitement with five electrifying touchdown returns in four consecutive games.

A pair of late bloomers are the top total offense returnees in Division III. They are Seton Hall's 24-year-old Jerry Castaldo, a former major-leaguer in baseball now taking advantage of the NCAA rule permitting ex-pros to play in college; and Heidelberg's Tim Van Goethem, who sat on the bench before getting a chance.

Castaldo, who threw 25 TD passes, 12 in his last three games, isn't the only George Blanda around. There's Lock Haven's Dave Bower, 26, four years with the Air Force in Vietnam and a leading passing returnee. Others are Hamilton's Tom LaFountain and Towson State's Dan Dullea.

Rushing returnees are St. Thomas' Dan Bosien, Augustana's Joe Thompson, Monmouth's Ron Baker, Salisbury State's Jim Watson and Hobart's Rich Kowalski. Thompson, also the defending scoring champion, and Baker are track standouts in the pole vault and javelin, respectively. Watson's 6.7 yards per carry was best among last season's top 14 rushers.

Other top returnees are Pomona-Pitzer's Joe Budenholzer in receiving, Kean's Joe Troise in punt returns, Tufts' Daryl Brown in kickoff returns, and Carleton's Kevin Birkholz in interceptions.

'74 Season Individual Leaders

By mid-season there was little doubt that Boise State quarterback Jim McMillan would lead the nation in Division II total offense and passing. The question was by how much. At season's end it turned out to be by a landslide. He finished with a country-high 310.1 rushing-passing yards and 19.2 completions per game.

Besides winning the scoring championship with 12.3 points per game, Jackson State's Walter Payton finished his career as the all-time collegiate scoring leader with 464 points.

In Division III, Pomona-Pitzer's Larry Cenotto and Kenyon's Jim Myers worked extra hard to win their championships. Entering the season as the nation's top returner in total offense, Cenotto again faced the same problem as he did in 1973: lack of help.

His team had a total of 35 players, and in the final few games suited up just 26. Not surprisingly, linemen were lacking—sometimes the tackles played on both offense and defense—so naturally Cenotto got very little blocking and had to scramble. The 6-1, 185-pound senior, however, had a lot of ability and capitalized on Pomona's wide-open offense. He finished No. 1 in total offense with 236 yards per game and passing with 16.3 completions.

The pressure was somewhat different for receiving champion Jim Myers. He was following in the footsteps of his brother Chris, who played at Kenyon from 1967-70 and became the college-division career record-holder for receptions (253).

Jim proved to be an outstanding receiver. In 1973 he finished second nationally with 6.7 catches per game on 60 receptions and was on a record-breaking pace in '74 until a broken leg sidelined his quarterback.

Before the injury, Myers had caught 55 passes in five games. He caught only 27 more the last four games, but finished on top with 9.1 catches per game and his 1,483 yards was 39 short of the national season record.

Speaking of records, Susquehanna place-kicker Chuck Smeltz made a perfect 75 for 75 extra points but oddly missed two in a row in his final varsity game. The streak set a college-division record, and the two misses prevented him from tying the all-time mark of 77.

1975 Division I Schedules

Listed alphabetically in this section are the 1975 schedules and 1974 records of all teams classified Division I in football.

Coaching records (below head coaches' names) are for all seasons as the head coach at any four-year collegiate institution.

Opposite each opponent on a team's 1975 schedule is the all-time series record—the number of games won, lost and tied against that opponent in previous meetings between the two teams.

* Night games.

PRONE TO PASS—Brigham Young quarterback Gary Sheide displays the form which made him second in the nation in passing. Despite the efforts of Wyoming's Paul Duke, Sheide gets off his pass for a 38-7 Cougar win enroute to a WAC championship.

1975 NCAA Division II & III Schedules

Below each school's name and location is the name of its 1975 head coach and his won-lost-tied record for all seasons as a college head coach. Listed at the bottom are each school's athletic director (AD) and sports information director (SID).

Schedules for 1975 are on the left, with 1974 records on the right.

Home games on each schedule are indicated by a diamond (♦) and night games are indicated by an asterisk (*). Neutral sites are designated by footnote symbol (†).

As one facet of the celebration of College Football's Centennial in 1969, two All-Time teams were chosen to recognize the top players of the game's first century. Each squad represented 50 years of the game's history.

Selections were by the Football Writers Association of America, with sponsorship by the Chevrolet Motor Division, which presented personal awards and a $1000 scholarship in his name to each selectee's alma mater.

These 22 players represent the finest in college football's history, their feats are legend and their stories are the very fiber of this unique American game.

The NCAA joins the Football Writers and Chevrolet in extending congratulations to these honored players.

THE ALL-AMERICA ROSTER

Split Balloting For Consensus Squad Creates Unprecedented 26-Man Team

By National Collegiate Sports Services

You could call the 1974 consensus all-America football team a classic case of split balloting.

On one hand, there were six unanimous choices, headed by Heisman Trophy winner Archie Griffin of Ohio State and Outland Trophy winner Randy White of Maryland. Griffin, Oklahoma's Joe Washington and Southern Cal's Anthony Davis all were unanimous choices for running backs. Oklahoma linebacker Rod Shoate and Michigan defensive back Dave Brown were the other unanimous choices. And three others missed unanimous selection by one team—Notre Dame receiver Pete Demmerle, Ohio State tackle Kurt Schumacher and Penn State defensive lineman Mike Hartenstine.

On the other hand, there were no less than four ties at other positions, creating an unprecedented 26-man consensus team. The ties involved Notre Dame's Gerry DiNardo and Oklahoma's John Roush at one offensive guard, Alabama's Leroy Cook and Mississippi State's Jimmy Webb at one defensive line spot, SMU's Louie Kelcher and Miami, Fla.'s Rubin Carter at middle guard, and Southern Cal's Richard Wood and Alabama's Woodrow Lowe at one linebacker. Completing the team were Clemson tight end Bennie Cunningham, Nebraska tackle Marvin Crenshaw, North Carolina guard Ken Huff, Ohio State center Steve Myers, California QB Steve Bartkowski, Stanford defensive lineman Pat Donovan, Auburn backer Ken Bernich, and defensive backs Pat Thomas of Texas A&M and John Provost of Holy Cross.

Oklahoma and Ohio State led with three consensus selections each. Five players listed hometowns in Ohio—Schumacher (Lorain), Crenshaw (Toledo), Myers (Kent), Griffith (Columbus), and Brown (Akron). The states of California and Texas can claim three each. The team combined the Football Writers' Association, Football Coaches Association, Associated Press, United Press International and Walter Camp Foundation.

FOREWORD

College Football Is Hail And Hearty

You know what a great feeling it is when you go for your yearly checkup, and the doctor finally sums up, "You're fine . . . Can't find a thing wrong with you."

That was pretty much college football's rosy situation last January when it went before the NCAA Rules Committee for a "thorough physical" and came away with a perfect grade.

Oh, they made a couple of minor adjustments, but Joe and Josie Pfan probably won't even notice the changes. Simply, here are this year's changes: A ripped jersey that exposes shoulder pads or precludes its number from being read must be replaced immediately . . . It's now mandatory to wear a mouthpiece and for the football to have two white stripes . . . The team sideline areas now stretch from the 30-yard lines, rather than from the 35's . . . And the referee now has the authority to suspend play temporarily when the conditions warrant.

There's good reason behind the committee's standpat decision. "We have the finest game we've ever had," said Chairman John Waldorf after the review. Secretary-editor Dave Nelson cited the fact that "College football teams in '74 averaged 141 plays per game to 120 for the NFL."

This "Finest Game" is a tribute to a full century of rules workers, who took the round ball of rugby way back in the 1870's and blew it up into a uniquely shaped thing of beauty.

The dimensions of the playing field, number of players and officials, and the game's general modus operandi have undergone a series of revisions, evolutions and revolutions to arrive at today's refined product.

For example, 100 years ago, the field was a huge 400 feet by 250, compared with today's 300 by 160. Originally, goalposts were 25 feet wide, with the cross bar at 11 feet, a foot higher than now.

The number of players per team has shrunk from 20 to 15 to 11, where it's remained since 1879, while the number of officials has grown from an original one, to four in 1912, five in '55, to an optional six-man crew today, assisted by an electric clock operator.

As a reminder for those who follow such things, here are just a few of the other major alterations: The forward pass was legalized in 1906, but the passer had to be five yards back of the scrimmage line until 1945, and no more than one incomplete pass in a series of downs was permitted until '34 . . . No subs were allowed originally, then only for an injured player; it wasn't until 1910 that a removed player could come back in, and a sub couldn't even communicate immediately until '41 . . . The value of a field goal, at first five points, was reduced to three in 1912 . . . Clipping was a 25-yard penalty until '33 . . . In '27, running shifts were outlawed . . . And the art of "flying" was erased from the game in '32, when out went the flying wedge, flying block and flying tackle.

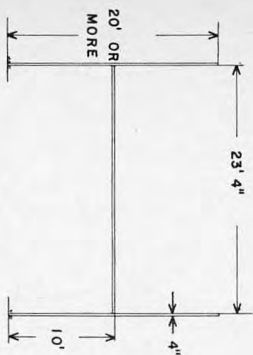

This "peoples' version" of the complete playing code is based strictly on the 1975 Official Football Rules, but should the Read-Easy Rules inadvertently be in conflict with the Official Rules, the latter take precedence.

Those blessed with the time and expertise for studying the rules in depth can obtain the NCAA's 1975 Official Football Rules ($1) and the supplementary 1975 Official Football Rules Interpretations ($1) by request-with-remittance to the NCAA, P.O. Box 1906, Shawnee Mission, Kansas 66222.

A whistle and striped shirt can be obtained at local sports stores.

Rule One

GAME, FIELD, PLAYERS AND EQUIPMENT

SECTION 1—This is Football.

Two teams of not more than eleven players each compete on a rectangular field with an inflated ball. A goal line at one end of the field is assigned to each team to defend. The object is to reach the opponents' goal, advancing the ball by running with it, passing it to a teammate or kicking it, and each team is given opportunities to do so. The rules provide points for scoring and, not surprisingly, the winner is the one with the larger score at the end of the game. There are no protests in college football.

SECTION 2—Supervision. There's a set of officials for each game, usually a Referee, Umpire, Linesman, Field Judge and Back Judge. Only each team's Field Captain may speak with the Officials.

SECTION 3—Field Dimensions. The playing field measures 300 feet between the goal lines and 160 feet in width. All boundary markers are outside the playing field, since measurements of the area are taken from the inside of the boundary markers. Thus, a player who steps on the sideline is out of bounds, and the ball has only to be in possession on or above the opponents' goal line to score.

A 10-yard area known as the end zone extends beyond each goal line. This area culminates with the end line, where the goal posts are located. The goal posts are 23 feet, 4 inches apart and are joined by a white crossbar 10 feet above the ground.

SECTION 4—Field Markings. Every white line on a football field serves a purpose and helps spectators, teams and officials. The stripes from sideline to sideline are the five-yard markers, helpful in determining length of advance and the point to be gained. The short stripes at one-yard intervals are inbound lines or hashmarks. All plays must begin with the ball on or inside the hashmarks.

SECTION 5—Yardage and Down Indicators. The chain used on the sideline to determine the point to be gained in a series of downs is 10 yards in length, with the chain affixed to two five-foot high poles. The down coming up next is shown atop a third pole.

SECTION 6—The Ball. The shape and dimensions of a football are unique. It is a “prolate spheroid,” and if you don’t know what a prolate spheroid is, it is exactly the shape of a football. It just misses being a foot long, measuring 11 to 11¼ inches. It’s just short of a pound, weighing 14 to 15 ounces. And don’t let anybody tell you a football is made of pigskin. It is not. It’s made of pebble-grained leather (occasionally rubber), and has two white stripes.

SECTION 7—Jersey Colors and Numbering. Opposing players are required to wear jerseys of contrasting color and, inhospitably perhaps, it is the visiting team that must produce the contrasting color if a change is necessary. Players must wear numbers both front and back and groups of numbers are recommended by offensive positions, as shown in the following diagram:

On a scrimmage play, at least five offensive players with numbers 50 through 79 must line up on the line of scrimmage.

SECTION 8—Protective Equipment. Each player must wear a head guard, or helmet, knee pads and a mouth piece. The helmet must be firmly secured by a chin strap. Other protective equipment is not mandatory, except shoulder pads with rounded edges must be worn by every player. If a player's jersey is so badly torn that it exposes shoulder pads or its numbers can't be read, it must be replaced.

Rule Two

DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1—Language Unique.

The language of football is, as the Mods might say, something else. Its official vocabulary includes a conglomeration of terms and phrases seemingly far removed from the game's slam-bang action, as witness crawling, huddle and neutral zone. And while the Official Rules Committee annually copes with defining official terminology, each season introduces new words into the popularly accepted unofficial vocabulary, including such of recent coinage as turnover, seam, triple option and wishbone.

Football truly has a language all its own, and one that collegiate coaching inventiveness alters even faster than the rules change.

SECTION 2—The Ball, Live, Dead, Loose. In the course of a game, the Ball itself may be referred to officially as a live ball, a dead ball, a loose ball, an out-of-bounds ball, or unofficially just a blankety-blank ball. In any case, it always is the game ball and once in play, it is "live" until it goes out of bounds, hits the ground on an incomplete pass or is declared dead by the Referee, as detailed in Rule 4. It is "live" also when it is fumbled across the goal line without being in possession of either team.

Obviously, when the ball is not "live" it is considered dead.

A Loose Ball is a live ball not in player possession during a running play, or it's the interval after a touched forward pass is caught or falls incomplete, or before possession of a kick is gained.

SECTION 3—Other Official Terms. Those merely start us on a long list of official definitions. Some others:

BLOCKING—Legally hindering the progress of an opponent by contacting him with any part of the blocker's body.

CLIPPING—Running or diving into the back of an opponent, or throwing the body across the back of the leg or legs of an opponent other than the ball carrier.

CRAWLING—An attempt to advance the ball by a player after any part of his person except a hand or foot has touched the ground.

DOWN—A single play by the team in possession of the ball. It starts with a snap from center or a free kick and ends when the ball next becomes dead.

DROP KICK—A technique now rarely employed, in which a player drops the ball and kicks it as it touches the ground.

FAIR CATCH—The opportunity for a player of the receiving team to catch a kicked ball that has crossed the scrimmage line, without being tackled or blocked by an opponent, after signaling his intention by clearly extending one hand only above his head and waving it from side to side more than once.

FORWARD PASS—Live ball thrown toward opponents' goal.

FOUL AND VIOLATION—A foul is a rules infraction subject to a penalty. A violation incurs no yardage penalty.

FREE KICK—A kick made with each team restricted from advancing beyond a fixed restraining line until the ball is kicked.

FUMBLE—Inadvertent loss of ball by player in possession.

HUDDLE—Two or more players grouped together after the ball is ready for play, usually for receiving instructions from their offensive or defensive quarterback concerning the ensuing play.

KICKOFF—A free kick with which each half is opened, and which is employed also following each Try-for-Point or Field Goal. A kickoff must be either a Placekick or a Dropkick.

LATERAL PASS—A live ball thrown toward or parallel with the passer's own goal line.

LINEMAN—A player who is on the line of scrimmage when the ball is snapped. Conversely, a Back is a player legally behind the line at the snap.

NEUTRAL ZONE—The space between the scrimmage lines of the offense and defense, approximating 11 inches (the length of the football).

PLACE KICK—The technique most often employed to kick off and on field goal and try-for-point attempts. The ball, which may be held in position by any player of the kicking team, is kicked from a fixed position either on the ground or on a tee.

PUNT—A ball that is dropped from the hands of a player and kicked by him before it touches the ground.

SCRIMMAGE—A play which begins with a snap from the center.

SCRIMMAGE LINE—The yard line (marked or unmarked) that passes through point of the ball nearest a team's own goal line.

SHIFT—Change of positions simultaneously by two or more offensive players after play is ready to start and before the snap.

SNAP—A quick, continuous motion by which the ball is handed or snapped back with the ball leaving the hands of the snapper on the motion. The snap normally is made by the Center.

SPEARING—Illegal use of the head and helmet to ram an opponent after his momentum has stopped.

TACKLING—Grasping or encircling an opponent with hands or arms.

YARD LINE—Any line (marked or unmarked) in the field of play parallel to the end lines. "Own" yard line means between a team's own goal line and the 50-yard line (midfield).

SECTION 4—Unofficial Terms. Additional football terms in modern use which are not found in the Rules Book but have become common to the unofficial terminology of the game include:

ACTION PASS—Forward pass thrown from an offensive formation simulating a running play.

AUDIBLE—A vocal signal by the Quarterback at scrimmage line changing play called in the huddle. Also called Check Off.

BOMB—A long pass attempt for a touchdown.

BLITZ—Total commitment by any number of defensive backs and/or linebackers to rush the passer.

BUTTONHOOK—A pass pattern in which the receiver goes downfield and U-turns back sharply to receive the ball.

DRAW—Quarterback back pedals as if to pass, but instead hands off for running play to set back who has delayed. Linemen's initial movements are as if to pass block.

FLAG—Officials' penalty marker otherwise known as a handkerchief.

FLARE—Pass pattern to a back swinging wide or "flaring" out of backfield. Sometimes called Swing Pass or Wheel Pass.

FLY PATTERN—Pass play on which receiver races deep toward goalposts. Sometimes called Up or Post pattern.

FRONT FOUR—Four-man defensive line—the tackles and ends.

LINEBACKER—A defensive player operating immediately behind his line where he can either aid linemen in stopping a running play or cover an opponent's receiver if a pass develops.

LOOK-IN-PASS—Receiver breaks quickly downfield and turns almost immediately to look over his shoulder for the ball.

MAN-FOR-MAN COVERAGE—Pass defense wherein defenders cover specific receivers wherever they go, rather than areas.

MONSTER—A roving linebacker who usually positions himself opposite opponents' strong side. Also called Rover.

ON-SIDE KICK—A kickoff is a free ball once it travels 10 yards. The "Onside Kick" is an effort by the kicking team to kickoff short and recover the ball before the receiving team can do so.

POCKET—Area of protection for the passer, formed by blockers.

PREVENT DEFENSE—Strategem of reducing front line strength to employ more deep defenders. Used when a team is ahead and willing to give short yardage in order to shut off the long gain.

PULLING GUARD—Guard who pulls out behind scrimmage line for a trap block or to lead sweep blocking for ball carrier.

REVERSE—A running play on which the lead blockers go in one direction while ball carrier goes in the opposite direction.

ROLL-OUT—Quarterback runs laterally behind blockers before exercising option to pass or run with the ball himself.

SCREEN PASS—Pass to a receiver behind a wall of blockers, who have permitted defenders to penetrate in pursuit of passer.

SEAM—Imaginary line where two zone-defense coverage areas meet. Passer tries to take advantage of "hitting seam".

SLOT BACK—Back stationed between wide receiver and interior linemen. Must be one yard behind the line of scrimmage.

STRONG SIDE—An overbalance of the number of offensive or defensive linemen to either side of the Center.

STUNTING—Defensive players changing positions in an unusual prearranged way in order to confuse offensive blocking.

TIGHT END—Offensive end who lines up in close formation (as opposed to Split End's wide set) where he can either block for a ball carrier or be employed as a pass receiver.

TRAP BLOCK—A ploy permitting a defender to penetrate quickly, only to be blocked from the side by pulling guard or tackle.

TRIPLE OPTION—Basis of the Wishbone-T. Quarterback has option of (1) giving to the short back or Fullback, (2) keeping and running himself or (3) tossing to trailing Halfback.

TURNOVER—A loss of possession via fumble or interception.

WIDE RECEIVER—A Split End or Flanker Back. Either or both are set wide of scrimmage line as potential pass receivers.

WISHBONE-T—Modern derivative of old formations such as the Split-T, "Y" and Belly Series. Quarterback is under center with fullback close behind and halfbacks split and set behind fullback. Advantage: Fullback is closer to line for dive play. Quarterback reads defensive charge quickly and either gives to the Fullback on quick play or fakes to Fullback and employs one of his other options (see Triple Option).

ZONE COVERAGE—Pass defense wherein areas are covered, rather than individual receivers. Opposite of Man-For-Man coverage.

Rule Three

PERIODS, TIME FACTORS AND SUBSTITUTIONS

SECTION 1—Start of the Game.

Each half must start with a kickoff, but it doesn't have to be a placekick. If some young man desires to begin a half with a dropkick he will be considered an innovator, but he will be entirely within his rights. The status of the dropkick has not been changed in years, although it has virtually disappeared from usage.

There's one preliminary to the kickoff. About three minutes before the scheduled start of a game, the Referee calls the field captains together and tosses a coin, first designating which shall call heads or tails. The winner of the toss has the option of kicking, receiving or choosing the goal his team will defend. A choice once announced may not be changed. The loser of the toss has his choice of the options at the start of the second half.

SECTION 2—Start of Second and Fourth Quarters. During the brief intermission between the first and second periods and between the third and fourth periods the teams change goals. The ball is relocated in the opposite half of the field at the spot corresponding exactly to where it was before the change of goals. Possession of the ball, the down and distance to be gained remain unchanged.

SECTION 3—Playing Time and Intermissions. The total actual playing time in a collegiate game is 60 minutes, divided into four periods of 15 minutes each and with one-minute intermissions between the first and second quarters and the third and fourth quarters. (High Schools and Prep Schools play 12-minute quarters.) The halftime intermission is 15 minutes, but it may be lengthened or shortened by mutual agreement. At any time during a game, the remaining playing time may be shortened by mutual agreement of the opposing Field Captains and the Referee.

SECTION 4—Extension of Periods. No period ends when the ball is in play, even though time expires during the play. If the time runs out during a play on which a touchdown is scored, the Try-for-Point is completed. The period also is extended to permit completion of a play free of penalty, if a defensive team fouls on a play during which time expires. No such extension of the period applies when the team in possession fouls or when both teams foul on the play.

SECTION 5—The Game Clock. This item can be more vital to the outcome of a football game than a timer is to a soft-boiled egg. It may be a stopwatch operated by the Field Judge or Back Judge, or it may be an electrically powered field clock operated by an assistant.

The clock first starts when a Kickoff is legally caught or touched. Thus, if a Kickoff goes out of bounds the clock is not started, since the ball was not legally touched or caught.

On scrimmage plays, the clock is started when the ball is snapped or on prior signal by the Referee.

The clock is stopped (a) when the Referee declares time out; (b) when a Touchdown, Field Goal, Safety or Touchback is made; (c) when a Penalty is called; (d) when a Forward Pass falls incomplete; (e) when a Fair Catch is made or when the ball is illegally touched; (f) when a live ball goes out of bounds; (g) when a first down is declared for either team; and (h) when a period ends.

The clock does not run during a Try-for-Point.

SECTION 6—Time Outs. Each team is permitted three free time outs in each half, except that a team may not request two of its time outs consecutively. Free time outs may not exceed one and one-half minutes.

During a free time out, one player at a time from each team may go to the sidelines to confer with the coaches.

The Referee has the authority to call time out for a contingency such as the repair of damaged equipment which might become dangerous, or quieting the crowd when a team can not hear its signals. He also orders time out during measurement for a first down or for an obviously injured player, charging himself with the time if the player is removed.

The clock is stopped for each time out.

After its third time out in each half, a team may be allowed a subsequent time out only for the replacement of an injured player and such an excess time out is no longer than the Referee deems necessary for the purpose.

SECTION 7—Delays. If a team is not ready for play at the scheduled time for the beginning of each half, it is penalized 15 yards. Failure to promptly remove an injured player is interpreted as delaying the game and is subject to a 5-yard penalty.

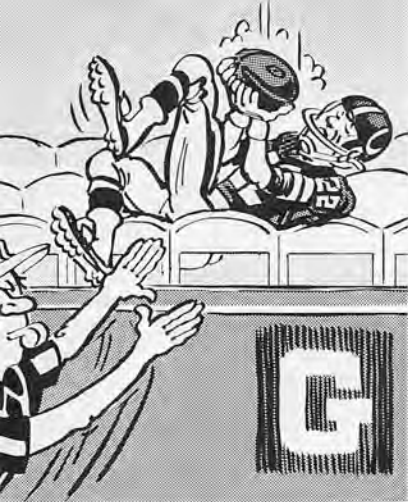

But the most common form of delay is action or inaction representing "stalling" tactics by a team attempting to consume time, usually near the end of either half of the game. A 5-yard penalty is invoked whenever the offensive team fails to put the ball in play within 25 seconds after it has been declared ready for play by the Referee. Also, when the Referee believes a team is trying to consume (or conserve) time, he may order clock stopped (or started).

SECTION 8—Substitutions. It was often called the "controversial free substitution" rule, because it seldom allowed for literally free entry of substitutes in the game, and usually restricted the number of substitutes which could enter at one time.

Now, however, a coach may send in any number of substitutes (up to 11, of course) when the ball is dead. This includes when the ball strikes the ground after an incomplete pass, when the ball goes out of bounds, or when it is blown dead by the referee.

Such multiple substitutions are permissible between periods, after a score or try-for-point, when the ball changes hands after a first down or when, after a kick, the kicking team is awarded a first down. Multiple substitutions also may be made after a fair catch.

Substitutions may not be made while the ball is in play and a substitute who enters the game may not be withdrawn until one down has intervened, a foul occurs or the period ends.

Rule Four

BALL IN PLAY, DEAD BALL, OUT OF BOUNDS

SECTION 1—"Alive" if in Play.

The proverbial cat with nine lives was a piker compared to the ball used in a football game. It may be "live" one minute and "dead" the next and then, without fanfare, it becomes live again, dead again time and time again in the course of a game. And if the sweet young thing with the pom-pom asks if a live ball might race away under its own power, you'll just have to set her straight. Football, remember, has its own language.

After a dead ball has been declared ready for play by the Referee, it becomes a live ball when it is snapped or free kicked. A ball loses its "life" and becomes "dead" in many ways, including when an official blows his whistle accidentally.

SECTION 2—When Ball is Declared Dead. Generally speaking, the ball is "blown dead" by an official, signifying the end of a play:

- When it goes out of bounds or touches the goal line of the ball carrier's opponents, or when a ball carrier is so held that his forward progress is stopped;
- When any part of the ball carrier's body, other than his hand or foot, touches the ground (except it remains alive when held for a placekick, even though the ball holder's knee is on the ground);
- When a touchdown, field goal, safety, touchback or try-for-point has been made, or when a fair catch has been made;
- When the defensive team gains possession of the ball on a try-for-point, or when the try fails to score;

- e. When the kicking team recovers a kick that has crossed the neutral zone;
- f. When a kick comes to rest on the ground and no player attempts to recover it;
- g. When a forward pass strikes the ground, or is caught simultaneously by opposing players;
- h. When a backward pass or fumble is recovered by an opponent after the ball has hit the ground;
- i. When a live ball touches anything inbounds other than a player, an official or the ground;
- j. When a backward pass or fumble is caught simultaneously by opposing players;

SECTION 3—The 25-Seconds Rule. The ball, once dead, may not be put back in play until the Referee declares it ready for play. It then must be put in play within 25 seconds.

SECTION 4—Out of Bounds. A play is out of bounds when a player—or the ball in his possession—touches a boundary line or anything on or beyond it except an official or another player. A ball not in player possession is out of bounds when it touches a player or anything else which is on or outside of a boundary line.

The point where the ball crossed the sideline determines where it went out of bounds. If a player with the ball in his possession is tackled with part of his person out of bounds but the ball remains within the playing field, the ball is ruled out of bounds at the farthest point of its advance.

Rule Five

SERIES OF DOWNS, LINE TO GAIN

So universally accepted is the word "down" in football that it often is taken for granted and implied, rather than stated—as in "third and three." To followers this means third down and three yards to go.

SECTION 1—When Series is Awarded. A down always is one play in a set of four, known as a "series of downs," because when a team comes into possession of the ball (usually by receiving a kick, intercepting a pass or recovering a fumble), it is awarded four downs in which to gain the required ten yards or more to continue possession, and to be awarded another series of four downs.

This, of course, is the significance of the familiar "first and ten," which is simply football shorthand for first down and ten yards to go. The 10-yard distance to be gained is measured from the ball's most forward point and that target (officially termed but seldom called "the line to gain") is kept in view along the sideline by a yardage chain.

Associated with the chain is a down indicator. It is an ancient and revered device now primarily for the information of nearby officials and players, since scoreboards generally serve this purpose better for everyone else in the stadium.

SECTION 2—When Series is Renewed. A legal advance to or beyond the "line to gain" may be made in one down, or in any number through four downs. When the yardage requirement has been met, the team in possession is awarded a new series of four downs and the "line to gain" is advanced ten yards. This, universally but unofficially, is known as "making a first down," as distinguished from a first down inherited when the ball changes hands.

SECTION 3—When Series is Broken. A team that fails to gain the required ten yards in a full series of four downs must relinquish the ball to the opposing team at the point where the fourth down play ends. To assure the turnover of possession at the most advantageous possible point on the field, the strategem most often employed is a fourth-down punt.

SECTION 4—First and Goal. One of the most conspicuous omissions of the word "down" is in the situation usually called "first and goal." It means a team has made (or inherited) a brand new series of downs less than 10 yards from its opponents' goal line, hence first down and goal (instead of 10 yards) to go.

SECTION 5—Penalty Interruption of Series. The Official Rules cover in detail various tricky situations a Referee must unravel when a penalty intrudes on a series of downs. Unless you plan to don a striped shirt, all you will be interested in knowing are these basic facts:

- a. A penalty moving the ball to or beyond the "line to gain" earns a first down the same as a run or pass play.
- b. Most yardage penalties simply cancel the play during which foul occurred and that down is repeated from the new spot (unless a first down was earned by the penalty yardage).
- c. It's also a "do over" when both teams commit fouls during a single play (called offsetting fouls), except there is an option when the ball changes possession in such a situation (Rule 10, Section 2).
- d. However, if a penalty is declined by the team against which the foul was committed, it is the penalty that is canceled and the play and down count as if the foul had never occurred.

Rule Six

KICKS

EDITOR'S NOTE—From the sketchy history of the origin of football, we know only that the kick was the very foundation of the early-day game. Without it, the ball could not have been moved, since there were no provisions for carrying the ball.

Research by Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler of the University of Michigan, permanent member of the Football Rules Committee, has brought to light the first running play of record. It was illegal, and more than fifty years passed before the American version of that run was introduced into football.

The incident took place in 1823 at Rugby School in England under "Association" football rules and William Webb Ellis, the original forgotten man of football, made the run. Near the close of the engagement, "he caught the ball and instead of kicking it back as required by the rules, ran through the astonished opposition across the goal line."

Today, on an ivy-covered wall at Rugby, a tablet marks his place in football history:

THIS STONE COMMEMORATES THE EXPLOIT OF WILLIAM WEBB ELLIS WHO WITH FINE DISREGARD FOR THE RULES OF FOOTBALL FIRST TOOK THE BALL IN HIS ARMS AND RAN WITH IT THUS ORIGINATING THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE OF THE RUGBY GAME . . . A.D. 1823.

Thus, apparently, were sown the seeds of our running game which now, with the pass, shares emphasis with the kick. But the booted ball, the subject matter of Rule 6, never has ceased to be a basic part of football.

SECTION 1—Free Kicks [Kickoffs]. The most familiar Free Kick—requiring both teams to remain behind their respective restraining lines until the ball is kicked—is the kickoff (see Definitions, Rule 2, Section 3). For the kicking team, the restraining line is its own 40-yard line (unless relocated by penalty) and the receiving team's restraining line is ten yards beyond (usually the 50-yard line).

Much rarer is the Free Kick after a safety is scored, when the restraining line for the kicking team is its 20-yard line, with the receiving team's restraining line at the 30-yard line.

The ball is placed on the kicking team's restraining line and all of its players except the kicker and the holder of the ball on a place-kick must stay behind the ball until it is kicked. This exception legalizes the "soccer-type" kickoff.

The receiving team not only must keep all its players behind its restraining line, but also must have at least five of them within five yards of that line. This might be termed the "anti-flying-wedge" rule, because it is what prevents the receiving team from forming a solid mass of blockers around its receiver.

SECTION 2—Free Kick Recovery. No player of the kicking team may touch a free kick before it either reaches the opponents' restraining line (i.e., travels at least ten yards) or is touched by a player of the receiving team. Thus, when a trailing team attempts an "onside" kickoff (usually in a game's waning moments), the trick is to kick the ball a minimum distance over ten yards and try to recover it before the opposition does. If the kicking team touches the ball before it has traveled ten yards, that team is ruled "offside" and the opponents gain possession at that spot.

A player of the receiving team may run with a free kick (unless a fair catch was signalled), but a player of the kicking team cannot advance a recovered free kick.

If a ball rolls dead on a free kick, i.e., no one attempts to take possession, it belongs to the receiving team. And for the first time in 1972, an untouched kickoff into the receiving team's end zone automatically belongs to the receiving team, and is a touchback. Previously, the kicking team scored a touchdown by recovering an untouched kickoff in opponents' end zone.

SECTION 3—Kickoff Out of Bounds. When a kickoff (or any free kick) goes out of bounds untouched, the receiving team may either (a) take possession where it went out of bounds or (b) require the kicking team to accept a 5-yard penalty and kick again (this time from its own 35-yard line, if kickoff was from the 40).

SECTION 4—Scrimmage Kicks [Punts, etc.]. Scrimmage kicks—whether punts, placekicks or dropkicks—have no restraining line for either team except the line of scrimmage. Either a punt or a placekicked field goal attempt is the common fourth down strategy of an offensive team that has failed to make the necessary ten yards in three of its series of four downs.

If a scrimmage kick (except the try-for-point) fails to cross the scrimmage line, whether blocked by an opponent or for other reason, any player may recover and advance the ball. But once the ball has crossed the scrimmage line, no player of the kicking team may recover the ball before it touches an opponent. If the kicking team touches the ball first, possession is awarded to the receiving team at the spot, and the ball becomes dead.

A scrimmage kick that strikes the ground in the receiving team's end zone before being touched by a player of the receiving team is immediately dead and it's a touchback.

Otherwise, as with free kicks, the receiving team may advance any scrimmage kick it recovers or catches (unless a fair catch was signalled), but not so the kicking team. A scrimmage kick that goes out of bounds belongs to the receiving team at that point.

SECTION 5—Opportunity to Catch a Kick. A player of the receiving team who is in position to catch a kick may not be interfered with by the kicking team while the ball is in flight. This protection terminates, however, the moment he or a teammate touches the ball.

SECTION 6—Fair Catch. A fair catch signal—hand extended clearly over head, waved from side to side more than once—gives a player the right to make an unmolested attempt to catch the ball without fear of being blocked or tackled after the catch. As his part of the bargain, the kick receiver's fair-catch signal "promises" he will not attempt to run with the ball.

When a fair catch is made, the ball is dead at the spot of the catch and the receiver incurs a 5-yard penalty if he takes more than two steps after the catch. If a player of the kicking team tackles or blocks an opponent who made a fair catch, he incurs a 15-yard penalty. Only the player making a fair catch signal has protection.

A player who signals for a fair catch is not obligated to attempt the catch, but if he does not, he must not block an opponent on the play (enforced by a 15-yard penalty).

Rule Seven

SNAPPING AND PASSING THE BALL

SECTION 1—The Scrimmage.

The action starts with the kick-off, but the tempo usually increases with the "scrimmage" that follows the kickoff. The scrimmage literally is the heart of the game—the means through which the power, the finesse and the deception of the game are set in motion and the defense thrown into gear. It starts with the teams facing each other across a narrow strip of No Man's Land about 11 inches wide. The snap of the ball sets in motion a play that may be a run, a pass or a kick.

The scrimmage play must start between the hash marks (inbound lines)—within the center-third of the field's width. It need not end there, but if it does not, the Referee must move the ball back into the area between the hash marks before the next play begins.

The Center, officially known as the snapper, may not move the ball or change his stance after he has taken his position for the snap. Nor may any of his teammates make any movement feigning the start of play. Players on defense need not remain stationary before the snap of the ball, but they may not touch the ball, cross or encroach on the neutral zone or make contact with an opponent. Each offensive player must have been within 15 yards of the ball before it is snapped.

SECTION 2—Scrimmage Formation. At the snap of the ball, at least seven members of the offensive team must be on the line of scrimmage. Five of these players must wear numbers from 50 through 79. This permits the officials to quickly identify players who are NOT eligible to receive a forward pass and who, accordingly, are prohibited from going downfield before a pass is thrown.

Those players on the offensive team who are not required to be on the line of scrimmage when the ball is snapped must be at least one yard behind it, with this exception; One player, usually the quarterback who first receives the ball from center, may be less than one yard from the line of scrimmage at the time of the snap. It is legal, however, for the center to snap the ball directly to another back. And it is permissible for one offensive player to be in motion immediately before the snap, but the "man in motion" must run laterally or toward his own goal, not toward his opponents.

SECTION 3—Shift Plays. If the snap is preceded by a huddle or a shift (simultaneous movement of two or more players), all offensive players must come to an absolute stop and remain stationary for one full second before the ball is snapped.

An offensive player who is behind the scrimmage line may hand the ball forward to a teammate who also is behind the line.

SECTION 4—Backward Pass and Fumble. A ball carrier may hand or pass the ball backward at any time and a backward pass or fumble may be caught or recovered by any player. If caught in flight by an inbounds player, the ball continues in play, but if recovered after the ball hits the ground, only the offensive team may advance it.

When a backward pass or fumble goes out of bounds or is caught or recovered simultaneously by opposing players, the ball becomes dead at that spot and belongs to the team last in possession.

SECTION 5—The Forward Pass. The offensive team may make one forward pass during each scrimmage down, but it must be thrown before the passer advances beyond the neutral zone. The defensive team may not throw a forward pass, nor may the offensive team intentionally ground a pass in an effort to avoid the risk of interception, to conserve time or prevent loss of yardage.

SECTION 6—Eligibility to Catch Pass. All defensive players are eligible to catch (intercept) a forward pass, but only six offensive players (including the passer) may do so. They are those wearing numbers other than 50 through 79, normally the two ends and four backs. However, when a defensive player touches a forward pass, all players become eligible.

Ineligible pass receivers (including numbers 50 through 79) may not advance beyond the neutral zone until the pass is thrown.

SECTION 7—Completed Pass. A forward pass is completed when the ball is caught by an eligible offensive player who is inbounds, and the ball continues in play. It also is completed when caught simultaneously by opposing players but, although the passing team is awarded the ball, it may not advance it.

SECTION 8—Incomplete Pass. A forward pass is incomplete when it strikes the ground or goes out of bounds. It also is incomplete if a receiver jumps to catch the pass and comes down with a foot on or outside a boundary line (sideline or endline) before one of his feet or his body touches in bounds. On an incomplete pass, possession remains with the passing team at the previous scrimmage spot.

SECTION 9—Pass Interference. Contact by an opponent which interferes with an eligible receiver (defensive players included) beyond the neutral zone, is pass interference. However, players are not guilty of interference when making a simultaneous and bona fide effort to reach the ball.

Pass interference by a defensive player gives the offensive team the ball and a first down at the spot of the foul (on the 1-yard line, if foul is in end zone). Offensive interference costs a down and 15 yards, if foul occurs in the field of play. If it occurs in the defensive team's end zone, it may be ruled a touch-back, thus loss of possession by the passing team.

 ANYBODY GOT ANY IDEAS?

Rule Eight

SCORING

SECTION 1—Value of Scores.

The game of football blends brain and brawn to a degree unknown in any other sport, and its offensive and defensive maneuvers have increased in complexity from season to season throughout the game's 106-year history. Yet its scoring values have remained remarkably simple. They are:

Touchdown	6 Points
Field Goal	3 Points
Safety (points awarded to opponents)	2 Points
Successful Try-for-Point(s) { by run or pass	2 Points
by kick	1 Point

That's all, except that a forfeited game (the rarest of occurrences in the case of football) is scored as 1-0 against the forfeiting team. A 1-0 score is possible in no other football situation.

SECTION 2—Touchdown. A touchdown, carrying a value of six points, is scored when a player is in legal possession of the ball when it—NOT the player—is on, above or beyond the opponents' goal line. If the ball carrier is thrown or falls on his opponents' 1-yard line and slides across the goal line, it is NOT a touchdown unless the ball's forward point was on or above the goal line at the moment his body hit the ground.

SECTION 3—Try-for-Point(s) After Touchdown. The Try-for-Point(s), also known as the conversion, is a "bonus" opportunity granted a team that has just scored a touchdown to add to its total by one or two points, while time is out. The attempt is a scrimmage play from the opponents' 3-yard line. A placekick or dropkick clearing the crossbar between the opponents' goal posts earns one extra point. Two points are added by a legally completed forward pass or a running play that advances to a spot on or beyond the opponents' goal line.

Following the Try-for-Point(s), play is resumed by a kickoff, with the option of kicking or receiving being exercised by the Field Captain of the team against which the touchdown was scored.

SECTION 4—Field Goal. The three points awarded for a successful field goal are earned by a placekick or a dropkick that clears the crossbar between the opponents' goal posts before it strikes the ground or a player of the kicking team. It is a scrimmage play and a field goal may not be scored on a kickoff.

A ball that clears the crossbar between the uprights, but is blown back over the crossbar, does not score a field goal.

As following a Try-for-Point(s), the Field Captain of the team scored against designates which team is to kick off following a successful field goal.

SECTION 5—Safety and Touchback. When the ball becomes dead in an end zone, whether out of bounds or in the possession of a defending player, it is ruled either a touchback (which scores no points) or a safety (two points). The determining factor is the impetus that sent the ball into the end zone.

If a team attacking a goal is responsible, it is a touchback and the defending team takes over the ball on its 20-yard line.

But if the ball becomes dead in an end zone as result of a kick, pass, snap, fumble or run (accidental or intentional) with the ball in possession of the team defending that goal, it is a safety, which scores two points for its opponents.

Following a safety, the defending team (having just yielded two points), must put the ball into play from its own 20-yard line by a free kick, which may be a punt, dropkick or placekick.

Rule Nine

CONDUCT OF PLAYERS AND OTHERS

SECTION 1—Limited Violence.

If you bruise easily, football probably is not your competitive sport. The game involves the hurtling together of human bodies, often weighing 250 pounds or more and moving at utmost speed. But this is not wanton violence. Unnecessary roughness, unfair tactics and unsportsmanlike conduct are severely penalized and specified protections are provided for situations in which players are unable to protect themselves adequately. All persons affiliated with the teams are subject to the rules, even if not involved in the game.

SECTION 2—Personal Fouls. A loss of 15 yards, plus disqualification of the offender in flagrant situations, is the penalty for these acts of unnecessary roughness identified as personal fouls:

- a. Kicking, kneeling or striking an opponent with a fist, extended forearm, elbow or locked hands.
- b. Striking an opponent's head, neck or face with the heel, back or side of the open hand.
- c. Tripping or clipping an opponent (except that clipping is not a foul within a specified, immediate area of the scrimmage line).
- d. Piling on, falling on or throwing the body on an opponent after the ball becomes dead. There shall be no hurdling.
- e. Tackling a ball carrier when he is clearly out of bounds or throwing a ball carrier to the ground after the ball becomes dead.
- f. Blocking below waist on kick returns, except the ball carrier.
- g. Grasping (not hitting) the face mask of an opponent.
- h. Using the helmet or head to maliciously butt an opponent.

SECTION 3—Roughing Kicker or Placekick Holder. The same stiff penalty protects the punter and kick holder from rough treatment as they concentrate on their demanding assignments. However, contact with the kicker is forgiven when a punt or placekick is blocked, since this is attacking the ball rather than the man.

SECTION 4—Interference Fouls. Other applications of the 15-yards, possible-disqualification penalty are for fouls that interfere with orderly game progress and administration:

- a. Interference with the ball or a player by a substitute or any personnel on the field illegally. (When a reasonably assured touchdown play is thus interfered with, the touchdown is awarded.)
- b. Use of abusive or insulting language to officials or players.
- c. Use of words or signals by the defense to disconcert opponents preparing to put the ball in play.
- d. Concealing the ball beneath clothing or substituting anything for the ball.
- e. Failure of a player to return the ball to an official immediately after a score or at any other time.

SECTION 5—Blocking Yes, Holding No. One of the more frequently assessed penalties is the loss of 15 yards for “holding.” This is because of the fine line between illegal holding and legal blocking. The latter is using the body to remove an opponent from the path of the play. It becomes holding when an offensive blocker uses a hand or forearm, unless the hand is kept in contact with the blocker’s body and below the opponent’s shoulders. It also is holding when an offensive player uses his arms to hook, lock, clamp, encircle or lift an opponent. The same restrictions apply to a defensive player only when he is not attempting to get to the ball or ball carrier. Blocking must be an individual effort, i.e., teammates may not grasp one another for interlocked blocking.

SECTION 6—Batting and Kicking. Unlike baseball, batting generally is frowned on in football. In this game, it means striking the ball with the hand or forearm, which is legal only while a forward pass or scrimmage kick is in flight. And even though the game is football, it is illegal to deliberately kick a free ball, forward pass or a ball being held for a placekick by an opponent.

Rule Ten

PENALTY ENFORCEMENT

SECTION 1—Referee Presides.

While all football officials are responsible for enforcing the rules, the Referee's role is the dominant one. Figuratively, he is the presiding judge and chief law enforcement officer. He has general supervision over the game and his decisions are final.

Before a penalty is enforced, the Referee explains the penalty options or alternatives to the Field Captain of the offended team. A penalty is completed only when it is accepted or declined, or when it is canceled because of offsetting fouls.

SECTION 2—Field Captain Accepts or Declines. The role of the Field Captain is unique in football, the one game in which the automatic assessment of a penalty against the opponents would be to the disadvantage of the offended team that has achieved its objective despite the foul.

A striking example is when a team has completed a touchdown play on which the defenders fouled. In such a situation, the Field Captain's choice is simplicity itself. He declines the penalty, since its assessment would erase the successful play. A more difficult decision would be whether to accept a 5-yard penalty against the opposition (without expending a down) or to decline and retain a 7-yard gain on the play (at cost of a down).

Any penalty may be accepted or declined by the offended team's Field Captain, but a disqualified player must leave the game.

Usually no option exists when fouls are committed by both teams on the same play. Such offsetting fouls cancel each other and the down is replayed automatically. However, if the ball changes possession during such a play, the team last gaining possession may decline and retain possession after the penalty for its own transgression is assessed if it gained possession before fouling.

SECTION 3—Enforcement Procedures. A Referee's lot is not an easy one, as attested by the complex enforcement procedures spelled out by this section of the Official Football Rules. For the rest of us, fortunately, awareness of these basic principles should be sufficient:

- a. No distance penalty may be more than half the distance to the goal, thus assuring that a score cannot be achieved by a penalty. For example, what would normally be a 15-yard penalty is assessed as only five yards when the enforcement spot is the offending team's 10-yard line, or only a half yard if enforced from the 1-yard line.
- b. If the defensive team fouls during a successful try-for-point(s), the offensive team's Field Captain may either (1) accept the point(s) scored, with the distance of penalty assessed against opponents immediately prior to the ensuing kickoff; or (2) choose to replay the try-for-point(s). The latter option might be exercised if the scoring team should decide to try for two points (from the 1½-yard line) instead of the one point it had made (from the 3-yard line).
- c. When fouls occur in the field of play or end zone on a running play, the enforcement spot beginning in '74 will be where the run ends, unless the foul is by the team in possession and it occurs behind the spot where the run ends. In this case, the penalty will be stepped off from the spot of foul.

SECTION 4—Summary of Penalties. The Official Football Rules book lists a total of 84 penalties (with some cross indexing), among which the most often encountered probably are:

LOSS OF 5 YARDS—Offside, illegal procedure, illegal motion, illegal shift, substitution infraction, delay of game and (incurring also loss of a down) intentionally grounded or illegal forward pass.

LOSS OF 15 YARDS—Personal foul, clipping, roughing the kicker or holder, unsportsmanlike conduct (chiefly non-contact fouls), illegal use of hands and arms, ineligible receiver downfield; and (incurring also loss of a down) forward pass illegally touched and offensive forward pass interference (the penalty for defensive forward pass interference awards the ball to the offended team at the spot of the foul).

NCAA GUIDES/RULES

THE COMPLETE LIBRARY of NCAA publications offers a full year of reading for the collegiate sports fan. The series includes the official playing rules for 11 sports, the "read-easy" versions of football and basketball rules, and eight Guides similar to the one you're holding. The Guides are full of preview information for the upcoming season as well as reviewing the past year. They are available well in advance of the sport's season when such information and the rules are useful and timely.
